New T. S. T. Pottery Re-opens This Week

Chester Plant Ready To Fire Two Tunnel Kilns, Says W.L. Smith

Shop, With Number of Employees Increased From 350 to 450, Will Beg in Operations in Full on or About November 14, Owners Announce as Work is Rushed on Addition.

IMPROVEMENTS, UNDER WAY SINCE SPRING, COST ABOUT $600,000

Ivory Body as Well as White Ware Will be Made by Company, of Which East Liverpool Man is President — M. J. Lynch Formerly With Knowles, Taylor and Knowles, is Production Manager.

Operations at the new plant of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery company, Chester, will be resumed the latter part of this week when two of the three new tunnel kilns will be fired, W. L. Smith, Jr., general manager, announced today.

Clay shops and other departments will start on or about November 14. Approximately 450 workers, an increase of about 100 over the force formerly employed, will be required in the modernized plant.

Contracts for the improvements, costing approximately $600,000, were awarded last spring, the Harrop Ceramic service company, Columbus, building two of the new kilns, and the Holcroft company of Detroit building the other unit, while the Finley Brothers' Lumber company of Chester held the contract for the clay shop and other buildings.

The bisque and decorating kilns have been completed while the glaze kiln will be finished within the next three weeks. Five of the upright kilns—three glaze and two bisque—are to be retained for emergency purposes.

Modern Machinery Installed.

Ivory ware as well as white ware will be produced by the company. Eight jiggers will be installed in the clay shop addition which covers a tract, 140 x 110 feet, on the south side of the old building.

Modern machinery has been installed throughout the plant. Measured according to the old-style upright kilns, the plant will have a capacity of 20 kilns.

The new road west of Clinton passes through several deep cuts which, it is feared, will be the source of considerable trouble in maintenance to the Pennsylvania state highway department.

The highway, when opened, will reduce the highway distance between East Liverpool and Pittsburgh to approximately 40 miles.

What Women Do.

Can't Make a Hen.

Worrying About America.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review Tribune.

MR. EDISON, adopting the Platonic-Socratic dialogue method in a radio talk, admits, reluctantly, that women have made no important inventions. Women, however, HAVE made all the important INVENTORS, which is something.

EDISON, compared to his mother, is like one of his incandescent lamps, or phonographs, compared to Edison. As a man is above the man created by her. There was more power in Nancy Hanks than in her son, Lincoln.

EDISON says' most inventions are made by men in their earlier years, because they then have greater energy and will to work.

The ordinary man wears out, like a poorly made machine. But not all men wear out. Titian painted as well, just before the plague killed him at ninety, as he did when younger—although his colors were less brilliant in old age.

Voltaire was at his best, fighting for the truth, at eighty. Michelangelo, when almost eighty, worked as well as he did at forty, and better than at nineteen, when he made a great statue from a discarded block of marble. It is the body that wears out, not the brain.

There are wonders in the second part of "Faust," finished when Goethe was past seventy, greater than any in the first part.

ONE scientist tells others that he foresees a day when life will be created in the laboratory, human beings remodeled, made over, according to prescription, by chemical compounds.

"Jacques Loeb," says he, "showed us frogs who had no father but a fatty acid."

That may be, but there will never be a Leonardo da Vinci with a fatty acid for his father, or dusty alkali for his mother.

You can hatch eggs in an incubator, but you can't make an egg in it, or a third, call it life, consciousness, thought, spirit, soul or what you will. Whatever you may call it, it will be complete satisfaction at the splendid cooperation the merchants have given in making the kitchen and auditorium ready for the school. The kitchen has been equipped with the latest labor and time saving devices.

Frances Grayson Prepares For Fourth Attempt to Span Ocean

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Maine, Oct. 24.—A broken valve in one of the whirlwind motors on the airplane "The Dawn" forced Mrs. Frances Grayson to turn back on the third attempt to fly to Copenhagen, Denmark.

T. Harold Kinkade, motor expert, made this discovery upon his arrival here by train from New Jersey today.

It was only by chance that the motor did not explode and bring disaster to the flight, it was stated.

The motor was immediately disassembled and a new one will be sent here from the Wright factory in Paterson, N. J. This will delay another takeoff.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Oct. 24.—After their third unsuccessful attempt to span the Atlantic ocean to Denmark, the crew of Mrs. Frances Grayson's plane "The Dawn" today were awaiting "Doc" Kinkade, motor expert, upon whose decision rests the possibility of another attempt this year.

Kinkade was expected to reach here by plane from New York early today and examine the plane's motors. Failure of one of them to function caused Wilmer Stutz, pilot, to turn back yesterday evening when about 600 miles at sea.

So confident was the motor expert that the plane was at last well on its way to Europe that as soon as it disappeared from view he left for New York.

SLIPS DELAY NEW CLINTON ROAD OPENING

Steam Shovel Still at Work on Stretch of Highway.

11-MILE LINK Officials Planned Through Traffic on November 1.

Opening of the new section of the Lincoln highway between Laughlin's Corners and Clinton, Pa., set for November 1, will be delayed because of two immense slips, which have completely blocked the highway, it was announced today.

A steam shovel is working in day and night shifts, seven days a week, in an effort to clear the road which in one place is covered by more than an acre of earth. A six-mile section of the road has been barricaded until the highway is cleared.

The new road for a five-mile stretch east of Laughlin's Corners was opened to travel several weeks ago but from that point into Clinton it is closed. Motorists traveling to Pittsburgh are advised to follow the new road to the point where it is closed then take a three-mile dirt detour over the Hanover hill to Mechanicsburg, thence to New Sheffield and Carnot over what is known as the Broadhead road. To take the road through Clinton, Imperial and Crafton, motorists must leave the improved road at Laughlin's Corners, traveling over a 16-mile dirt section.

The new road west of Clinton passes through several deep cuts which, it is feared, will be the source of considerable trouble in maintenance to the Pennsylvania state highway department.

The highway, when opened, will reduce the highway distance between East Liverpool and Pittsburgh to approximately 40 miles.

Pleading guilty to a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, Peter Price was fined $100 and costs by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today. Price was arrested in West Fourth street by Patrolman James Hale at 11 o'clock Saturday night while carrying a one-half gallon jug of corn liquor.

PLAN DEDICATION OF NEW PLANT

Plans for a dedicatory program at the new plant of the Homer Laughlin company in Newell were to be launched at a meeting of plant officials today.

Date for the dedicatory program will be set at the conference. Addresses, music, dancing and other features will make up the program which probably will be held early next week.

BE COMPLETE SATISFACTION AT THE SPLENDID COOPERATION THE MERCHANTS HAVE GIVEN IN MAKING THE KITCHEN AND AUDITORIUM READY FOR THE SCHOOL. THE KITCHEN HAS BEEN EQUIPPED WITH THE LATEST LABOR AND TIME SAVING DEVICES.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR OPENING OF REVIEW-TRIBUNE COOKING SCHOOL TOMORROW

Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers and her assistants announced today that plans are complete for the opening tomorrow of the Review-Tribune cooking school to be offered the housekeepers of the East Liverpool district for four days in the Eagles' auditorium. Mrs. Brown-Lewers expressed complete satisfaction at the splendid cooperation the merchants have given in making the kitchen and auditorium ready for the school. The kitchen has been equipped with the latest labor and time saving devices.

There is a big electrical refrigerator in which she will make frozen desserts as a part of the cookery program of the school and its principle of freezing by electricity will also be explained to the many women who want to know the what and why of the equipment which goes into their kitchens. Various labor saving devices will be a part of the stage setting and their practical uses explained by the lecturer.

There will be cookery demonstrations at each day's session as well as a lecture by Mrs. Brown-Lewers with free distribution of the printed recipes after the class.

Doors Open at 1 O'clock. A prominent club woman will introduce Mrs. Brown-Lewers at the beginning of the first class tomorrow afternoon. She will tell some of the interesting facts about the lecturer's previous work and experience with clubs and schools throughout the United States. There will be exhibits of new food products and many kinds of household equipment which may be examined after the lecture.

The doors will be opened at 1 o'clock each day and the lecture starts promptly at 2. Mrs. Brown-Lewers urged again that the housekeepers plan their week's work so that they can be free to come to the school and so that they will not have to rush away to get their family dinner or supper before the demonstrations are finished.

The four days of interesting cookery and lecture demonstrations are free to everybody who is interested in homemaking. A number of women's clubs and societies and several of the women's church organizations are coming in a body tomorrow for the opening.

The merchants who cooperated in furnishing the kitchen will be represented by their women employees as well as by members of their own households, and women and girls from every part of the district will be in attendance at what promises to be the largest event of this kind ever staged in the city.

COURT JUDGE WITHHOLDS HIS DECISION ON OIL TESTIMONY

Question Involves Story Millionaire Told Senate.

CASE GOES ON

Government Witness Tells About Placer Mining Claims.

By George E. Durno.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Declaring that neither counsel had presented sufficient argument or evidence on the essential particulars of the point at issue, Justice Siddons, presiding over the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial, today withheld decision as to whether Mary F. Sinclair's testimony before a senate committee in 1923 may be admitted into evidence.

Visit to Three Rivers.

This testimony is to the effect that during Christmas week, 1921, Sinclair and an attorney went to Ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall's ranch at Three Rivers, New Mexico, for the express purpose of "seeing about the oil rights held on reserve lease."

The government, which is contending that this lease was fraudulently negotiated, considers admission of Sinclair's testimony as all important.

Siddons held that admission of the testimony rested on the question of whether or not Sinclair had been actually subpoenaed to appear before the Walsh committee and he pointed out that neither the prosecution nor the defense had made this clear. He asked for more details.

The defense is objecting to the reading of the Sinclair statement to the jury on the grounds the oil magnate is protected by the statute which forbids the use of any testimony given before either house of congress against a witness in a subsequent criminal action.

The government holds that Sinclair failed to apply for immunity under this statute at the time he appeared, and therefore can not claim it at this late date.

The judge indicated he would base his ruling on a determination whether or not Sinclair had been formally subpoenaed and was or was not a witness.

Seven Lawyers Surprised.

The seven lawyers in the case, surprised, went into a conference with Siddons while a befuddled jury stared at the bench. Apparently the attorneys were arguing the question out, but because of the jury's presence they held their conversation down to an inaudible point.

It appeared there would be no ruling today.

This was confirmed when the conference ended abruptly and Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, called L. E. Eddy, former employee in the general land office as the day's first witness.

He was called to tell about placer mining claims on the Teapot Dome reserve at the time Sinclair leased the field.

The defense objected to admission of a report Eddy prepared on the validity of such claims, but Siddons ruled it in. Sinclair had brought up these claims and given quit-claim

21 DIE WHEN THEATRE BURNS

Fifty Persons Injured in Movie Fire in Finland.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Twenty-one persons were killed and 50 were injured today in a fire which destroyed a large wooden motion picture theatre at Tammer, Finland, according to a Central News Dispatch from Stockholm.

The audience, composed largely of workmen with their families, stampeded wildly towards the exits when the fire broke out. Many of those killed were trodden upon and crushed to their deaths by the frantic mob stampeding the exits.

'THE DROP KICK' AT AMERICAN

Dorothy Revier and Richard Barthelmess are Co-stars.

Dorothy Revier, playing with Richard Barthelmess in First National's college picture, "The Drop Kick," at the American theatre portrays a new type of "college widow" in her characterization of Eunice Bradbury, wife of the college coach.

Miss Revier, clad in some of the most beautiful gowns imaginable, is the passion of the college, and her flirtations with various students lead up to some of the most dramatic moments in the story.

Miss Revier demonstrates that she is not only charming, but an actress of great ability, particularly in some of the tense scenes with Barthelmess when she leads him into situations that result in his temporary banishment by his fellow students.

"The Drop Kick" is from the novel "Glitter" by Katherine Brush, and was produced by Ray Rockett with Millard Webb at the megaphone. The Ten National College Stars, recently chosen at 36 universities by First National Pictures, are members of the cast.

Bicycle riding is growing in Ireland.

"Queen High," Musical Comedy Ace, coming

New York Sensation Will be Presented at the Ceramic Theatre Wednesday Evening.

NEWELL

Tim Robinson, new dealer, Bixby Street, has charge of The Review Tribune circulation. Leave subscription orders, advertisements and news items with him. Bell phone 212-J.

CROWD EXPECTED TO ATTEND PARTY

"Queen High," the latest musical comedy sensation will be the attraction at the Ceramic Theatre Wednesday. It comes here from long and prosperous runs in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. It radiates a general atmosphere of gaiety and good cheer, and makes a delightful evening's entertainment. The book and lyrics are the work of Laurence Schwab and B. G. De Sylva. The music, by Lewis E. Gensler, is declared to be melodious and haunting, with several numbers that will certainly survive the year 1928, and the fact of untold numbers of dances will move to the daint measure of the lifting dances.

"Queen High" tells the amusing story of two partners who quarreled continually and of the scheme devised by the firm lawyer to make peace.

The brilliant cast includes Eddie Garvie, Dave Mallen, Margaret Lee, Neil Collins, Carrie Glenn, Mary Marilyn, Georgette Armfield, Albert Downing, Danny O'Donnell, Arlyne White, Dorothy Dunn and others of the stars.

Representatives from 42 chapters of the state held a meeting recently at which arrangements for the campaign were outlined.

Most of the money collected in subscriptions is retained by the various chapters for local work, while a percentage is forwarded to national headquarters of the American Red Cross at Washington.

Services Listed.

Prayer services will be held Wednesday night in the local churches with the respective pastors in charge of the devotions.

Court Resumes Sessions.

Sessions of the United States district court were resumed today at Wheeling before Judge William E. Baker. Among the cases listed for trial this week is that of a Weston man who was indicted for alleged violation of the Harrison drug act.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

21. B. Caldwell, MD
AT AGE 63

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsi. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

We would be glad to see you prove our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsi," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

How the New Easy Washer Saves You Work in Many Amazing Ways

No Wrapping to Do

THE new Easy Washer does away with a wringer. No more danger of catching your fingers. No more danger of the children hurting themselves. No more broken buttons. No more deep wrinkles in the clothes. Think how much easier the ironing will be.

No Buckets of Water to Empty

Here's another great convenience. The New Easy empties all water into your sink or set tubs—electrically. You don't have to use a bucket to lift or carry a single drop of water throughout the washing.

Also made with gasoline motor for homes with out electricity.

REMUS LAWYERS HUNT EVIDENCE IN NEW YORK

Describe Visit to Philadelphia as Very Successful.

MEET LA GUARDIA

Conference Arranged With Two "Surprise" Witnesses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Charles Elston and Carl Basler, gathering depositions for George Remus, bootlegger, charged with the murder of Imogene Holmes Remus, his estranged wife, are in New York today after what Elston described as a very successful visit to Philadelphia.

Today they will visit Representative F. H. La Guardia of Harlem, Morris Sweetwood, Mrs. Pauline Sweetwood, his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Kessler, the latter four business associates of Remus, and two "surprise" witnesses.

The Philadelphia visit afforded absolute proof of Remus' contention that Mrs. Remus and Franklin Dodge offered $20,000 to have him killed in the fall of 1925, Elston said.

Russell Montz, stenographer of the Philadelphia police department, employed by John R. Marshall, special prosecutor of the Jack Daniels conspiracy case at the time Remus testified against his former associates in that case, swore that he and Marshall had offered Remus a guard from four gunmen who shadowed the bootlegger from his hotel.

Remus was given a .45 caliber service pistol with which to defend himself. Montz said, at the suggestion of Marshall. Montz denied he had been given liquor or money by Remus.

Detroit Jewel Range selected

By MRS. MARY BROWN-LEVERS
For The Review-Tribune Cooking School
STARTING TOMORROW AT 2 P. M. AT EAGLES' AUDITORIUM

A cooking demonstrator cannot afford to take a chance on the gas range she uses for cooking school. It must be absolutely dependable, a good cooker and baker. With an eager crowd of women watching every move there is no opportunity for the demonstrator to "cover up" any mistakes or faulty cooking. She must depend on her range to work perfectly at all times — Detroit Jewel Gas Ranges were selected by Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers for this cooking school on account of their dependability and uniform good qualities.

"They Bake Better!"

Always Have — Always Will!

5—Have Wonderful PATENT OVEN—With 6-Side AIR CHAMBER INSULATION... Heats Economically and Quickly... Heat travels 16 inches in Oven—Evenly and constantly; most perfect that science has ever attained for Baking and Roasting. Heat is wonderfully concentrated and controlled. Uniform BAKING can be done with Oven Door Wide Open!

Keeps Kitchen Cleaner—No Fumes
Saves Gas All of the Time!

Oven can be wrapped in common newspaper and baking done without even scorching the newspaper. Caused by Perfect Air Insulation All Around FIVE SIDES of the Oven.

Salvation Army Budget Campaign

While canvassing will not begin until tomorrow, the Salvation Army's second annual home service campaign, in which $10,000 is sought to meet budget needs for the year ending September 30, 1928, will get under way tonight, when Attorney W. H. Vodrey, drive chairman, and 100 co-workers will attend a dinner in the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall.

The program of the Salvation Army, which, under the leadership of Field Major and Mrs. Joseph Hughes and their assistant, Lillian Lund, and their predecessors, has done splendid work in the East Liverpool district, calls for $5,389 for family and transient relief work, while the remainder of the budget includes band expenditures, outpost expenses, young people's activities, campaign expenses, general administration, extra help hire and a $453 deficit.

No encomium is needed for this religious organization, for it practices as well as preaches its famous wartime slogan, "A man may be down but he is never out." And its interest in unfortunates has been attested in scores of cases in the East Liverpool district, not to mention its many relief movements.

Besides welfare activities and hospital visitations, the East Liverpool unit of the Army has been on the job in relief work. Concrete evidence of its efforts is found in the year's report which shows, among other things, that 405 baskets of groceries were distributed, rent paid for seven families, 15 tons of coal delivered, medical aid given 43 individuals, 16 persons furnished lodging and 831 provided with meals, 11 transients given medical aid, 189 furnished clothing and 172 given shoes. In addition, the organization distributed 40 articles of furniture and 181 pairs of shoes, aided 1,449 families in various ways, distributed 525 Christmas baskets, provided Yuletide cheer for 1,625 others, distributed bread to 310 persons and 80 quarts of milk to needy families.

Also, its special work included placing two girls in a Salvation Army Rescue Home, aid in six juvenile cases, interest in three reformatory cases, refurbishing of six homes damaged by fire, relief for two boathouse families and help for eight deserted families. And, too, the Army co-operated in the Mississippi flood sufferers' campaign by contributing 3,000 garments and one ton of provisions.

And to continue this humanitarian work, the Salvation Army, which knows no race, no creed, asks the help of the public. The budget campaign deserves the support of every man, woman and child.

Labor Moves Out

Study of recent immigration trends by the National Industrial Conference Board shows a remarkable and unprecedented situation. Crude labor is now flowing from America to Europe instead of from Europe to America.

For the last three years the United States has been losing to the Old World 20,000 common laborers a year more than it gained. This applies especially to industrial labor. The inflow and outflow of farm labor is about stationary.

There is a small net gain, in the field of common labor, amounting to about 25,000 a year in this three-year period, due to the unrestricted immigration from Mexico and Canada. That is almost negligible in its economic effect.

No wonder American wages remain high, with such scarcity of new supply. And no wonder there is a boom in labor saving machinery.

Truth In History

There are enough real evils in the world to combat without wasting time and energy on imaginary ones. The National Americanization Committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is said to be considerably exercised at present over a history text in use in some public schools. The book is "Modern History" by Profs. Carlton J. H. Hayes and Parker Thomas Moon.

The New York World has looked into this text and finds that it does teach some of the things objected to. For example it teaches that Americans used "British institutions and theories of representative government" in framing their new government; that the doctrines of the Declaration "were not new or original" but had previously been developed by Locke and other English political philosophers.

If such charges are the worst that can be brought against the "Modern History," its opponents are taking offense where none is given. What has gone before in history inevitably influences what comes after. There is no disgrace, no lack of patriotism, no ignorance in admitting that the founders of this nation knew the most advanced political thought of their time and drew upon the theories of outstanding thinkers in building the framework of government.

Not long ago the complaint was that American history was a sugar-coated exposition of pleasant myths, like the Washington-cheer tree yarn. A big effort was made to inject more authenticated facts and truth into it. Possibly the happy medium has not yet been reached in our textbooks, yet certainly steps in the right direction are taken by any work that shows backgrounds and causes as well as effects.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A New Form of Advertising.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—The American public is being introduced to a new form of advertising this fall—the exploitation of a service, an industry, a product or a group of products through prize contests. People are asked to suggest a slogan, a trademark, or a name for a new commodity, or to write brief statements of their reasons for patronizing this or that service or industry or for preferring a certain product or kind of product.

Liberal cash prizes are assured the successful contestants—a first prize not infrequently running to $5,000, $10,000, or even $25,000—and many times the sum total of the prizes is expended in advertising the contests in newspapers and magazines and in printing and distributing booklets and other descriptive matter pertaining to the contests and whatever is being exploited.

For example, an industry that deals in a product used in building, and of other and widely diversified uses, announces that it wants a slogan and will hold a free-for-all contest to get the best one possible. Various prizes in cash are offered, the first prize usually running from a fifth to a third of the total prize money, with the other prizes scaled down until a relatively small sum is offered a large number of contestants.

This announcement is made and repeated in display advertisements in newspapers and magazines and is almost invariably accompanied by the statement that prospective contestants, in order to be informed fully about the product for which they are to devise slogans would do well to send for a descriptive booklet that will tell them practically everything there is to be told about it.

Thus the contest not only calls the attention of a great many people to the product and stimulates sales, but it leads thousands to inform themselves more or less thoroughly concerning the article or whatever it is that is being exploited. This latter result is especially desirable in a case where a particular kind of service is being exploited, such as if all the bars in the United States were in an association that offered $50,000 in prizes for the best 300-word letters on "Why I Take My Face to the Barber Instead of Mowing It Myself." That is rather a far-fetched illustration, perhaps, but it serves.

New In Form, Not In Kind.

Advertising through contests is not new, of course. It dates back to the contests in which the public was invited to guess the number of beans in a glass jar in a shop window, or may be even more ancient. In the form in which it has recently been developed, however, it is new.

When guessing contests became taboo because zealous guardians of the public welfare insisted on abolishing anything and everything that even resembled remotely a lottery, contests of skill, accuracy, or intelligence were introduced. Assembling the parts of a picture or geometrical figure, counting the dots within a given space, making many small words out of one big one, solving puzzles—such were some of the contests of that kind. Then came the solving of mystery or crime stories, writing novels, short stories, poems, scenarios, and the like, and popularity contests, beauty contests, and what not.

That the contests of more recent development are arousing wide-spread interest is evidenced by the almost innumerable inquiries that newspapers and information bureaus are receiving. People of all classes and every degree of intelligence are being enlisted as competitors, and it is small wonder, considering the lure that is being held out. When $10,000 is offered for the best 300-word letter on a certain of this city and Thomas E. Barlow of Long Bottom.

John W. Barnes of this city and Miss Erma Call of Midland obtained a marriage license in Beaver.

subject, or $5,000 for the best slogan of ten words or less, everybody seems anxious to compete, for that is what is known as important money.

Ten thousand dollars for 300 words is a price that would tempt the most successful authors. At that rate a short story such as most magazines publish would bring from $100 to $200,000; a novelette would run to five times as much, and a full-length novel to two or three millions!

The per-word rate to be received by the winner of the slogan contest is even more dazzling. Should he use the full allotment of ten words he will be paid $500 a word, which is an excellent price for a short story of five or six thousand words, while it is possible that he may win the $5,000 with a single word and it is rather improbable that the winning slogan will consist of more than four or five words.

Professionals Rarely Win.

And it is to be remembered in all these contests the idea is emphasized that professional writers and advertising men rarely win them, thus encouraging the great masses of the people to enter the lists. One contest announcement asks readers to bear in mind that "these slogan contests are hardly ever won by professional-writers or technical experts. Nearly always the winners are people who never expected to win. They just hit on the simple way to express the big central idea. You might do that as well as anybody."

And if that sort of appeal does not turn the trick, there is this bait:

"Think of the fairytale of enjoyment and pleasure in $10,000! It may mean a new home; a car; college for the boy and girl; a trip around the world with a liberal balance left over; $1,000 a year extra spending money for ten years; or $600 a year continuing income at 6 per cent interest."

Since everybody does not have $10,000 to put to the delightful uses the imagination can conjure up that should lure everybody and set them to writing furiously and copiously, and maybe eloquently and successfully. In the case of this particular contest it will be sure to interest every woman who has ever bent her back over a wash tub or an ironing board, for women who have done much of that can think of a lot of ways of spending $10,000—and buying soap or wringers is not one of the ways! Skeptics as to the value of this new form of contest advertising may assure themselves that it would not be growing as it is if it were not worth while. If they require specific examples to set their minds at ease let advertisers be spending money for which they will not get adequate returns they may undertake to compute what the slogan, "Say it with flowers," has been worth to the florists of the United States.

They will discover speedily that it is something that can not be computed. They may arrive at estimates, possibly, if they can garner sufficient data, or they can make guesses, and the latter may be more accurate than estimates. Advertising experts will tell them, however, that if all the florists of the country had been united in an association, and had been reasonably assured of the benefits that would accrue to them from such a slogan, they would have assessed themselves to pay a million dollars for it and counted it cheap at the price.

And, in addition to interesting people in an industry, a service, or a product, and making buyers of them, this form of advertising develops a by-product that is not to be overlooked. When one of the contests is over, the advertiser has hundreds of thousands of names and addresses that constitute an invaluable and otherwise unattainable mailing list.

Australia is seeking more effective ways to halt the ravages of white ants which have been known to destroy a farm wagon over night, leaving only the metal parts unbroken.

Sally's Shoulders

by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of
"HER MAN"
"HONEY LOU"
"THE HOLLYWOOD GIRL", ETC.

CHAPTER XL

The bright Sunday, with its blue sky and autumn leaves glittering like gold in the sunshine, seemed very dark to Sally, as she left Aunt Emily's house and started along the River road.

She had no idea what to do now—or where to go for the money that Beau must have before he started for the bank the next morning.

She racked her brains, but with no result.

"I've asked Mr. Peevey once for money, so there's no use in going to him again," she thought, mentally crossing him off her list.

"And I don't know where my father is," she went on thinking, her hopelessness growing with every step she took along the wide roadway.

For Mr. Jerome traveled for a thousand dollars—and he would give it her head as if some gentle voice were repeating it to her, word by word—beautiful and comforting:

"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest."

Surely it had been said for people like her—people who labored and were heavy-laden. It was like a message to her. A promise.

"Help me—help me," she prayed, with lips that never moved. For surely she needed help now as she never had needed it in all her life before.

And so it seemed to her that the thought that came to her was a direct answer to that prayer—the thought of John Nye. She would go to him and tell him that she was in dreadful trouble and needed a thousand dollars—and he would give it "Didn't you ever hear of a Shimmy Black Bottom?" she asked him.

factory and it was almost impossible to reach him in a hurry.

"Especially on a Sunday, when the factory is closed," said Sally to herself, and despair was around the heart like ice. "And tomorrow will be too late."

After the bank opened the next morning, Beau would be in terrible danger. He was even now, as far as that went, Sally knew that.

"I've just got to get one thousand dollars, and I've got to get it today," she told herself.

But beyond that point her mind was a blank.

Afterward she never could remember boarding the yellow street car a quarter of a mile from Aunt Emily's "House by the Side of the Road," or mechanically pacing her fare.

But all at once, as she sat in the corner of her seat, her brain began to clear and to start working again.

Perhaps it was the sight of a little stone church that she was passing that did it. It was a humble little church on Donovan street, and its narrow steps were crowded with people who were going into it.

Sally never knew for sure whether it was the sight of the little church or not, but all at once the memory of a verse in the Bible flashed into

They turned to look at her in surprise as she came up to them. She nodded at them and slipped into Mr. Peevey's office to wait until they finished talking.

Five minutes slipped by. "I may as well phone the house while I'm waiting, and see if Beau's still there," thought Sally, as the steady hum of their voices came to her through the closed door. Her desperate fear was that Beau would become panicky and do that fatal thing—"skip town."

But he answered the telephone, and she breathed a sigh of thankfulness at the sound of his voice.

"This is going to come out all right, Beau," she told him quietly, strong in that feeling of faith and peace that had come to her on the street car. "I'm sure of it." She was.

Beau grunted. "Did Aunt Emily give you the money?"

"No," said Sally. "But I'm downtown now, and I'm going to ask Aunt Emily's Mr. Nye for it."

"You're crazy," was Beau's short reply. "He'll never give it to you—and he'll know this story about what I've done all the rest of his life. To tell it around to everybody—"

"He's not like that," Sally broke in. "And anyway, I'm not going to tell him that I want the money for you, Beau. Just trust me this once! I know what I'm doing. And promise me that you won't run away until I get home."

"I'll give you an hour," Beau's voice answered her after a long pause. "If you're not here then, I'm gone, see?" And with that he hung up.

Sally set down the desk telephone and looked up.

Mr. Peevey had come in silently, and he was standing facing her. She saw that he had heard everything she had said to Beau.

"Sit down," he said sharply. "Now, then, tell me what's wrong."

But Sally would not tell him. "I've got to see Mr. Nye," she said, doggedly. "He's going to lend me some money."

Mr. Peevey shoved his glasses up on his forehead and squinted at her. "Have you asked him for it?"

Sally shook her head "No."

"Well, before you do it, I want to talk to you," Mr. Peevey said, and he sat down in his own chair behind his old-fashioned desk.

"You've worked for me for a long time," he began. "And you've done a lot of things for me that I've never paid you for—a lot of extra work at night, and so on. And now that I'm closing by business, I'd like to give you a little present. How much money is that you need?"

Sally shook her head stubbornly. "No, I won't take money from you," she said decidedly. "I owe you almost a hundred dollars now." She got up, and so did he.

She got off the car and walked along until she found a drug store. From its dark, ill-smelling telephone booth she called John Nye's house.

Her heart sank when a man-servant's polite voice informed her that Mr. Nye has gone put."

The voice went on: "I think you will find him at his office, if you will call there."

"Thank you, I will," breathed Sally, her voice full of relief.

By some miracle a taxicab had drawn up beside the curb before the drug store while its uniformed driver bought himself a package of cigarettes within. In two minutes Sally was speeding down town.

"If only he hasn't left!" she said tensely to herself, as she left the elevator at the top floor.

He had not. The minute she rounded the corner of the hall she saw him. He was standing outside his office door, talking to Mr. Peevey, of all people! Mr. Peevey hardly ever worked on Sunday.

She understood, then, why he had been so willing to lend her first a hundred dollars and then a thousand. He probably had known that he was doomed—and earthly riches do not seem important when people reach the place where earthly riches can no longer be put in the bank, or gloated over, or even loaned.

But on that Sunday morning Sally went home, filled with wonder and awe because of the miracle that had just occurred in Mr. Peevey's office—the miracle that had sent her up to his office that morning in search of John Nye.

On Monday Beauregard Jerome returned the money he had stolen just as quietly as he had taken it away—and nobody but Sally and Mr. Peevey were the wiser.

"Did you ever hear of the Savannah Stomp?" he asked Sally, when she stumbled a bit as he swung into a new step that she did not know.

"Show off!" she called him teasingly, and suddenly she began to shake her shoulders in true Gilda Gray style. "Didn't you ever hear of a Shimmy Black Bottom?"

"Hey, cut it out!" growled Ted, as a man in a far corner of the big dining room began to snap his fingers and grin at her with great appreciation. "Everybody's looking at you."

Aunt Emily appeared in the doorway with a smoking platter of chicken. She stopped dead still, frowned and shook her head warningly.

The man in the corner put two fingers in his mouth and whistled. "Keep 'er up!" he called cheerfully.

But Sally, horrified, stopped and rushed out into the kitchen.

She and Sally swayed rhythmically about the floor. "This is the 'Blue Lagoon' skinned a mile, even if it is tiny." He was full of food, and therefore, full of contentment.

Moreover, they had the small floor to themselves. For the other couples sat down to watch him and Sally, who were quite as good as half the professional dancers who live on their grace and agility. He began to "do his stuff."

JOHN F. M'QUEEN, WELLSVILLE POSTMASTER, IS DEAD

DEATH FOLLOWS OPERATION IN CITY HOSPITAL

Former City Auditor
Succumbs Early
Today.

71 YEARS OLD

Funeral Services to be Held at 3 p. m.
Wednesday.

John Falconer MacQueen, 71, Wells-ville postmaster, died this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the East Liverpool hospital, his death emanating a several months' illness of complications.

Becoming ill last August he was taken to the hospital for an append-

"Any day but that!"

It's exasperating when men don't understand—and embarrassing when they do. Women who have learned of Midel don't have painful periods.

Midel is not a narcotic. It acts only on the organs affected. Perfectly safe, but swift; it brings complete comfort in five to seven minutes! No matter how hard a time you always had,
Midel will dispel every particle of pain. It is only common sense to use it, for it does nothing to hinder the normal, natural process of menstruation;
but makes it painless.

aluminum, for purse or pocket; fifty cents at any drugstore.

city's operation. Two weeks ago, believing himself recovered from the effects of the operation, he went back to his desk in the postoffice. Saturday night he became ill again and was taken to the hospital, undergoing another operation on Sunday from which he failed to rally.

The Wellsville postoffice has been under Mr. MacQueen's direction since 1922.

Prior to his appointment by President Coolidge he served as city auditor for a period beginning in 1906 and continuing until 1922, without interruption. He was a Republican in politics.

He was born on October 30, 1856, in Highlandtown, the son of Hugh and Nancy MacQueen. He began his education at Alderick school and later graduated from Lisbon high school.

For several years he was a student at Mt. Union college.

Taught School for 20 Years.

After leaving college he taught school in different parts of Columbiana county for approximately 20 years.
With his brother, J. W. MacQueen, he then assumed direction of the Wellsville
Union, which he edited from 1884 to 1905.

In 1885, Mr. MacQueen married Miss Anna Patterson, and 10 years later became a resident of Wellsville.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was affiliated with the Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges.
In addition to his widow he is survived by a son, Attorney Walter F.
MacQueen, Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Noah Russell of Hammondsburg, and Mrs.
Price Cope of Salem, and one brother,
J. W. MacQueen, of Wellsville.

Funeral services, in charge of the Wellsville Masonic lodge, will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family residence in Tenth street, with Rev. Harold Post, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in charge. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

BUNTING BEGINS JAIL SENTENCE

Eward Bunting of Wellsville, who entered a plea of guilty last Monday before Judge W. F. Lones to manslaughter, after being indicted by the September grand jury for murder in the second degree, is a prisoner now in the Columbus penitentiary. Bunting was given a sentence of from one to 20 years.

The defendant was charged with the death of William Phillips following a quarrel on a bridge at McCurdy's stop on the Y. & O. railroad last June.

Made Party Defendant

On his own motion, A. W. Cartlett, of Wellsville, has been made party defendant in the case of Harry Waters against Conard E. Rose and George D. Ingram. This was an action to sell real estate and was made a matter of record Aug. 5th last.

Two Arrested, Three Hurt In Auto Wrecks

William Tillman, Wells-ville, and Richard Marshall, East Liverpool, in Jail Here; Two Collisions Near West Point.

Two arrests were made, two women and one man were slightly injured and six automobiles were badly damaged in three crashes over the weekend.

William Tillman, living near Silver switch, arrested on a charge of reckless driving, and Richard Marshall, of East Liverpool, held on suspicion, are in jail here as a result of a collision on the East Liverpool road above
Kountz avenue last night shortly before 10 o'clock.

Tillman, driving a Ford truck, enroute from East Liverpool, crashed into the rear end of Marshall's Ford touring car near the spring along the roadside, according to the story told by Marshall to local police.

Tillman's truck swerved sideways and toppled over the embankment and stopped on the edge of the hillside. The driver was cut slightly about the face.
Both cars were damaged.

People living in the vicinity called Wellsville police and Chief John Fultz, Patrolman Charles Hanlon and Constable Albert Oster investigated.
A quantity of liquor was found, according to authorities, near the scene of the crash. The Standard Garage wrecker was called to tow the cars to Wellsville.

A Nash touring car, said to have been driven by James McNutt, of East Liverpool, a short distance beyond West Point, McNutt was driving north.
Mrs. O. M. Kessell, of Wellsville, a passenger in the Youngstown car, sustained injuries to her right leg. She was taken to her home where she was given medical attention by Dr. J. M.
King. The Wallace car was towed to the McElvane garage, East Liverpool, and the McNutt machine to the Standard garage here.

Mrs. B. V. Riggs, of East Liverpool, was cut and bruised, although not seriously, when the machine in which she was riding, driven by her husband, was sideswiped by a car driven by Ralph Anania, of Wellsville, at the sweeping curve in the Lincoln highway at West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Riggs, together with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Karn, of East Liverpool, were enroute to Lisbon. The Anania car was coming south and, making the curve, struck the Riggs car in the side, swerved off the road and plunged into the hillside, according to the East Liverpool man.

Although Sheriff Wright and Denton Kiesslinger investigated the accidents, no arrests were made.

KIWANIS WILL HONOR PASTOR

Plan Meeting for Rev. R.
W. Ustick Tuesday,
Nov. 1.

In honor of Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church here, the Tuesday, November 1, meeting of the local Kiwanis club will be held in the dining room of the church, with women of the church serving the dinner.

Rev. Ustick will leave next week for Springfield, O., where he will assume charge of the United Presbyterian church.

Next week's meeting will be the last which Rev. Ustick will attend as a member.

On the evening of Tuesday, November 1, Rev. and Mrs. Ustick will be tendered a farewell reception in the church parlors.

T. T. Jones, of East Liverpool, will address the club at tomorrow's noon meeting in the Riverview hotel. He will speak on "Public Health."

Antwerp recently held a celebration to commemorate the three-hundred-fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Peter Paul Rubens, the painter.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our bereavement in the death of our infant son.

Especially do we thank Rev. Hawkins and the staff of the Prudential Life Insurance company.

MR. AND MRS. EDGAR GUILINGER.

600 MEN, WOMEN HEAR ATTACK ON GOSSIPERS

Scandal-mongers Hit in St. Aloysius Church Retreat.

WEEK'S SERVICES

Rev. Father Graham, Dominican Missionary in Charge.

With an overflow crowd, which occupied part of the sanctuary as well as the vestibules and aisles, in attendance, a week's retreat for Catholics and non-Catholics opened in the St. Aloysius church, West Fifth street, at 7:30 o'clock last night, with Rev. Father Graham, of the Dominican Missionaries in charge.

More than 600 men and women heard a forceful sermon on "Christian Charity," in which Father Graham, taking for his text, "Prepare the way of the Lord; make straight His path," assailed gossipers, scandal-mongers and calumniators and urged the秉ding of idle tongues.

Punctuating his discourse with criticisms and stories, he drove home to his hearers the truths and principles of Catholicism and appealed for more Christ-like charity on the part of the persons who, unmindful of the dire consequences, destroy a man's reputation or a woman's career.

Forty Hours' Devotion.

Rev. Father John L. Maurer, pastor of St. Ann's church, East End, recited the rosary preceding the sermon, while Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed the discourse.

Father Graham celebrated Mass at 5:30 o'clock this morning, following which he gave a short instruction on "Confession and Contrition."

Throughout the week, services will be held in the evening at 7:30 o'clock and in the morning at 5:30.

The Forty Hours' Devotion, opening at 9 o'clock Friday morning and closing at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, will climax the week's services.

Rev. Thomas E. Walsh is pastor and Rev. James H. Smith, assistant pastor of the St. Aloysius church.

deeds to the government in advance of procurement of his lease.

Bought Up Worthless Claims.

The report said quite positively that not a single claim was valid with the single exception of 160 acres which belonged to the state of Wyoming, being a school section.

Sinclair's action in buying up worthless claims, the government contends, was an indication of the bad faith in which the Teapot Dome lease was conceived. Roberts holds that Sinclair bought them and turned the deeds back to the government solely to prevent any possible litigation that might bring the circumstances of his own deal to light.

Eddy further testified that originally the Sinclair lease had no preamble, but that later, in his presence, Fall personally dictated one. The defense contends Fall took no active part in the making of the lease.

George Hoover, Sinclair lawyer, cross-examined Eddy, who was a cautious witness.

DEATH ROLL

Albert Myers.

Funeral services for Albert Myers, formerly of East Liverpool, who died Saturday, were held this afternoon in the Baptist church at Newport, O.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Catherine Myers, Pittsburgh; his father, Jacob Myers, Corning, O.; one brother, Dudley Myers, East Liverpool, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Noland, Akron; Mrs. Theodore Vanwey, Glouster, O.; Mrs. Orin McVey, Glouster, and Mrs. Amos Kirkbride and Mrs. William Lucas, both of East Liverpool.

BENDER CALLS FOR FIGHT ON MARSHALL BILL

State Senator Speaks at Cincinnati Meeting.

PASTORS LISTEN
Explains Supreme Court Ruling on Justice Courts.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 24.—The legitimate income of the justice of peace courts in Ohio is derived primarily from civil cases, and is affected less than five per cent by the supreme court decision," declared Senator George H. Bender of Cleveland, addressing the Cincinnati Ministerial association on the Marshall bill here today.

"From city justice courts throughout the metropolitan section of Ohio, ten millions of dollars was collected in eight months from the two classes of cases from which they are now barred by the supreme court decision," said Bender, referring to liquor and automobile traffic cases.

"It is ashame and ridiculous to classify men any longer on the basis of just or appetites in this fight. Every Christian, regardless of race, color or creed, should leap to defend his home and his inalienable rights as a citizen," Bender declared, in denying the anti-saloon league charge that "bootleggers and their friends" are opposing the Marshall bill.

MARSHALL BILL MEET TONIGHT

Law Enforcement League Will be Re-organized.

Reorganization of the East Liverpool Law Enforcement League will be completed at a Marshall bill meeting which will be held in the First Baptist church, West Fifth street, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Officers will be elected at this meeting and plans discussed for the getting out of the voters at the election on Tuesday, November 8. This meeting was to have been held last week but was postponed because of a conflicting engagement.

Attorney Harry Brokaw of this city will be the speaker at a rally in behalf of the measure in the First Friends church, Salem, at 8 o'clock tonight. Charles P. Bough, West Point, president of the Columbian County Law Enforcement league, will preside.

N. B. O. P. OFFICER RETURNS TO DESK

John D. McGillivray, secretary of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and son, Donald, returned home yesterday from Los Angeles, Cal., where the former attended the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor as the representative of the general, china and sanitary ware branches of the ceramic industry.

Gen. DICKMAN DIES SUDDENLY

World War Army Commander to be Buried Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, one of the three Americans to command an army during the World war, will be buried tomorrow in the National cemetery at Arlington with all the military honors it is possible to bestow. Gen. Dickman died suddenly of a heart attack at his home here yesterday. He was 70 years old.

All federal troops in the district will be turned out, and his body will be borne to Arlington on an artillery caisson. High ranking officers of the army and navy and government officials will attend the funeral services.

With Maj. Gen. Hunter Liggett and Maj. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, Gen. Dickman commanded the three American armies in France at the time of the armistice. He participated in every major campaign in which the Americans were engaged, and was decorated by five governments.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Gen. Dickman graduated from West Point in 1882. He became a cavalry officer and distinguished himself in the Spanish-American and Philippine campaigns. He retired in 1921 after 45 years service.

TODAY

never create it, and never put an end to it.

DR. DAVIS, Secretary of Labor, is afraid that we are producing too much machinery thus threatening working men's jobs.

"Consumers in the United States have increased by 10,000,000 since 1914. The factories of the nation are employing 7 per cent fewer men than in 1914, due to widespread use of machinery."

THAT could easily be solved by giving workers a 7 per cent shorter working day, or finding other work for them to do. When modern machinery was introduced in cotton spinning, British manufacturers had to build forts to protect their machines. Workmen wanted to destroy them, lest they should take bread from workers' mouths.

AN answer to Secretary Davis' worry is given by Edwin J. Slapp, thus: In 2,000 plants, employing at the present time 8,000,000 workers, the July weekly earnings were 114 per cent ahead of weekly earnings of July, 1914. The cost of living was 62 per cent higher than 1914." In other words, workers this July were 52 per cent better off than they were 13 years ago. The workers of all kinds in this country earn each year 10,000 million dollars more than it costs them to live.

Some of us drink bootleg liquor, some shoot each other, some dance foolish dances, sing foolish songs, keep foolish hours. But on the whole the country is not going to the dogs.

DOES IT PAY FARMERS TO ORGANIZE AND ADVERTISE?

Ask the orange, walnut, raisin, prune and peach farmers of California.

The peach farmers, not well organized, were compelled to sell their crop this year for $10 a ton. Two pounds of perfect peaches for 1 cent, less than half the price of good alfalfa hay, two-fifths the price of an antracite coal in the East.

On the other hand, the orange, prune, walnut and raisin growers, through their advertised brands and excellent organization, are able to deal with the markets and buyers of the country as a whole.

It was a wise old man that, dying, showed his son how easy it is to break little sticks separately, how difficult to break them when tied together.

DWIGHT MORROW IN MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24.—Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico, formally took charge of his post here today. Mr. Morrow arrived late yesterday on a special train from Laredo.

An early meeting with President Calles is being sought and a request probably will be made through the foreign office either tomorrow or next day. At the meeting the ambassador will present his credentials.

Upon his arrival here Mr. Morrow was extremely reticent. He firmly declined to say anything for publication. He explained he could not permit himself to give even his first impressions of the country. From his manner it could be gathered, however, he was pleased by the cordial receptions tendered him along the route from Laredo.

Officers will be elected at this meeting and plans discussed for the getting out of the voters at the election on Tuesday, November 8. This meeting was to have been held last week but was postponed because of a conflicting engagement.

Attorney Harry Brokaw of this city will be the speaker at a rally in behalf of the measure in the First Friends church, Salem, at 8 o'clock tonight. Charles P. Bough, West Point, president of the Columbian County Law Enforcement league, will preside.

STOLEN SEDAN FOUND IN EAST

New York Police Recover Alex Fisher's Car.

Nash sedan, belonging to Alex Fisher, Summit lane grocer, which was stolen here September 9, has been recovered in New York, according to a telegram received by Acting Chief of Police Conley yesterday.

The message came from the New York police inspector who stated that the auto was being held in a garage pending receipt of word from the owner. Fisher told police that a man would be sent to drive the car back to East Liverpool.

Chevrolet coupe, belonging to Alfred Glogckner, 410 Blakely street, which was stolen while parked near the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, was recovered near the Vodrey pottery where it had been abandoned.

A Chevrolet touring car owned by Ray Baghman, 1520 Commerce street, Wellsville, taken while parked in East Fourth street, was recovered in Wellsville, Sunday.

JURY HEARS SUIT FOR $221 CLAIM

Suit of the Central Acceptance Corporation, of Cincinnati, against Howard Parsons, of the Fidelity Motor company, Pennsylvania avenue, was placed on trial before a jury of six persons in municipal court today, with Judge J. C. Hanley presiding. The action is based upon a claim of $221.59.

The jury is composed of Miss Margaret Cannon, T. P. Ferguson, George Hughes, Miss Jane Harker, Mrs. Bess Zeppernich and Richard Sant.

CONVICT MAN IN ETERNAL TRIANGLE CASE

Husband Found Guilty of Slaying Colorado Senator.

29-HOUR DEBATE

Penalty Under Verdict Not More Than Year in Jail.

DENVER, Oct. 24—Joseph S. Miner, slayer of State Senator Albert E. Bogden, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter today by a jury that had deliberated more than 29 hours.

This conviction carries a sentence of not more than one year or less than one day in the county jail.

The killing occurred last June 9. Miner witnessed Bogden embrace Mrs. Helena Bradenburg Minter, his estranged wife, in her apartment from the window of an adjoining hotel. He then broke into the room and shortly after, three shots rang out. Bogden was dead.

Miner wandered through the streets of Denver all that night, but went to police station early the next morning and gave himself up to police.

MIDLAND HIGH ELEVEN DEFEATED AT AVALON, PA.

ALLEGHENIANS WIN BATTLE BY SCORE OF 19-6

Steel City School Boy Scores Near End of Game.

SUFFELETTO STARS

Spesak Makes 70-yard Run, But Whistle Stops Counter.

Scoring by straight football in all but the third period, Midland's grid machine defeated the Midland Blue and Gold eleven Saturday afternoon, 19-6 count, at Avalon. Midland made its lone touchdown near the end runs. S. Caddick carried the ball twice the kick-off on his own 25-yard line and raced 75 yards for a score. Glumac failed to kick goal.

Early in the first quarter Avalon scored after working into Midland territory by a series of backs and short end runs. S. Caddick carried the ball over for a touchdown. He followed with a successful kick, giving the Avalon combination a seven-point lead.

Caddick again scored for Avalon in the second period. Neither team crossed the goal in the third quarter.

Springer, Avalon half, scored on a left end run in the final period.

Although Spesak intercepted an Avalon pass just before the close of the half and ran 70 yards across the

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this famous home-made cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but why it takes hold of a cough will soon earn for you a place in your home. Into a pint bottle pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. It tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It's really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy cures a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

goal line, the score failed to count because of the timer's whistle.

Midland used the aerial attack more than Avalon gridders, completing three out of seven attempts. Avalon tried several passes, but failed to complete them.

Suffeletto, Spesak and Rosen showed well on defensive play.

Creighton, freshman, put into the game by Coach Lomond for a few minutes, proved his ability.

Outweighed by the Avalon eleven, the Blue and Gold boys showed stone-wall defensive qualities late in the second quarter when they held their opponents for four downs on the one-yard line.

Midland clashes with Freedom here next week.

FIREMEN GRID TEAM WINS, 6-0, OVER WOODLAWN

Last-minute Aerial Attack Brings Victory.

SUNDAY STARS

Battle on Even Terms During Three Periods.

Launching a last-minute aerial attack, Midland's volunteer fire department gridders turned what looked like a scoreless tie for three full quarters and part of the fourth into a 6-0 victory over the Woodlawn Wilsons here yesterday afternoon.

Woodlawn kicked off to Midland's 30-yard line, the firemen losing the ball on downs.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Senator Borah's political eccentricity is what makes him so terrible. There's no telling what he'll do.

The Republican national committee held a meeting in Washington recently, remember, to dope out presidential plans. Borah was in town and they all agreed his advice ought to be asked.

He's dangerous. That's recognized. He's just barely manageable, and no more. And he's formidable—nearly enough so to be president—not quite, but close enough to it so that there's always the chance he may be strong enough to block somebody else.

It's wise to consult him, Chairman Butler and a little delegation of his fellow committeemen did consult him, and came back and reported that he seemed to be all right.

The committee had previously talked over all the available Republican presidential possibilities.

Charles Evans Hughes probably lost some strength as a result of the talk. It was admitted that the west didn't seem to be warming up to him. Herbert Hoover probably gained some, and Frank Lowden a little, with Vice President Dawes in between.

Chairman Butler and one or two others undoubtedly went home with their minds still made up to draft President Coolidge for another term.

Toronto Humbled By High Gridders In 12-0 Contest Here

HURSTMEN REVEAL SUPERIOR DEFENSE

Witherow's 68 Yard Touchdown Run After Picking up Fumbled Ball and "Cap" Kirkham's 30-yard Drive, Features.

Parading his big Red eleven here Saturday in the "rubber" game of three years of football, Coach Chick Smith of Toronto and his scrappy band of warriors looked from the bench and from the soil at Patterson Field in the first three minutes of their battle with the Blue and, in manner somewhat similar to the handwriting on the wall, they saw their fate as a big white "13" flickered momentarily before their eyes—flickered and was gone.

A few seconds later the first of two touchdowns scored by Joe Hurst's high school squad was planted over the goal line by End Witherow who flashed the prophetic "13" in the face of the Jefferson countants as he turned his back on them after scooping up a fumble to run 68 yards for the initial marker.

Make It Decisive

And, by way of showing all and sundry that their superiority in point making could not be attributed wholly to a break, the Blue, in the final period, used one play from the Toronto 30-yard line to register the second half of its 12-0 victory. Captain Frank Kirkham, in eight consecutive line plunges, battered his way down the field to the final chalk mark in an exhibition that probably has seen no equal in courage and brilliance on the local lot.

Eight times the Blue and White leader threw himself against the big Red wall behind the force of the power and "Gunboat" Smith. Slowly, but surely, thrusts of Allison, Pennebaker, surely and with the irresistible strength of a man of war, the Blue machine beat back the enemy hordes, yard by yard, passing the 20-yard mark, then the 10 and then—victory in a last smashing drive that sent "Cap" hurtling over the prostrate forms of friend and foe, three deep on the line of scrimmage, for touchdown.

Lose Touchdowns

The score does not justly indicate East Liverpool's superiority over the Torontos.

Fumbles prevented two additional touchdowns and the referee's whistle at the half checked another drive that was headed to the uttermost Toronto defenses.

In the first quarter the Hurst machine plowed and passed a bee-line path from near mid-field to the Toronto 5-yard line and lost the ball on a fumble that the visitors recovered.

Again, in the third period, they duplicated this feat exactly, with the exception that they penetrated to the three-yard zone when a slip again cost them possession of the leather.

As the half came to a conclusion Kirkham had launched another line smashing offensive that had taken the ball from near the Toronto 30 line up to the 10 and appeared to be wearing a touchdown label.

Nab Ten Passes

Again the Blue and White proved adept pupils in the Hurst system of passes.

The figures show that 13 passes (there's that 13 again) were hurled by the East Liverpool eleven and 10 of them found resting places in the

DETAILS OF BLUE'S 12-0 VICTORY

Clark kicked off to Karaffa who ran it back five to the 28. Held for downs, Steele pointed out, his boot going high, and an inopportune fumble in the Blue ranks made possible recovery by the visitors near the East Liverpool 45.

The Red then broke through the line for a fire down on East Liverpool's 28, being given a flying start when the Hurst eleven was penalized five yards on offside.

A pass from Center Brady got loose in the rushing Toronto backfield. End Witherow, of East Liverpool, was in fast on the play, scooped up the ball on the run and raced approximately 68 yards for a touchdown. A forward pass, Kirkham to Witherow, for the extra point, failed.

Loss Scoring Chance.

Clark kicked off again, the ball stopping on the Toronto 38.

The visitors immediately returned the punt to Skidmore. The East Liverpool quarterback let the leather slip but easily recovered on the 35. A pass and a line plunge netted a first down. Skid slipped through the line for another. Anderson grabbed a pass for a third first down. Buckling down on the Toronto 5-yard line and in excellent position to score, the Blue lost their opportunity on a backfield fumble that Toronto recovered.

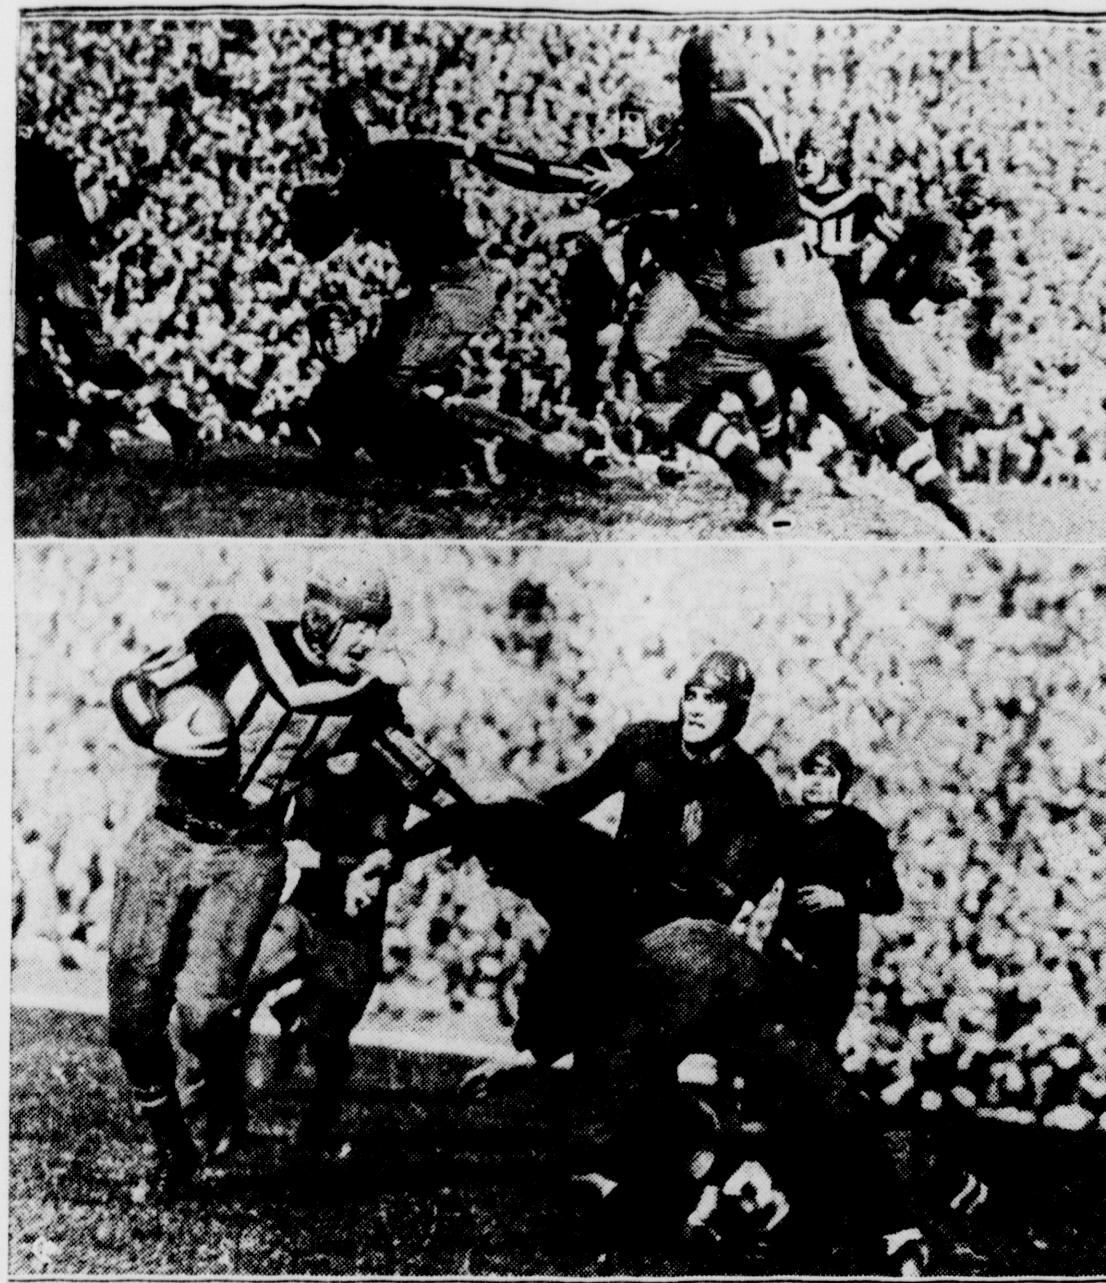

Steele then punted out to Skidmore on the Toronto 45. Three line plunges netted a fire down and the Blue continued its drive to the Toronto 20 where they lost possession on downs.

Unable to gain, Toronto, as the second quarter started, punted. Kirkham battered his way through the line for a 10-yard gain. After driving to the Toronto 35, the Blue again gave up the ball on downs and Steel kicked out. With pulled in a forward pass for a 20-yard gain. The Red recovered the ball on downs on their own 40. A fumbled pass from center cost them 10 yards.

Half Stops Blue's Drive.

Steel booted it out and after three plunges at the line, Kirkham executed one of the prettiest made-to-order punts of the afternoon, when, standing on the Toronto 45-yard line, he punted to the corner of the gridiron, the ball bounding off the lot at the 5-yard mark. The visitors' return punt was a little weak, the Blue recovering near the 30 and launching

RUTH AND GEHRIG ARE STILL AT IT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Baseball fans of the Bay district today were convinced that Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig were entitled to their rating as home run hitters. Each got two homers in two games played yesterday. Gehrig hit a circuit walk-off at Oakland in the morning when his team defeated one headed by Ruth, by a score of 6 to 3. Ruth clouted two homers in the afternoon game played here, his team trimming Gehrig's by a score of 15 to 4. Gehrig also crashed out a homer in the second game.

OHIO CONFERENCE STILL PROBLEM

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24.—With half of its 1927 football history already recorded, the Ohio conference is still enough of a problem for so-called experts and prognosticators.

Mimal with four straight conference victories, and Wittenberg with two victories, have played a consistent brand of ball and have brought the dopesesters little cause for worry, but as for the rest of the teams, "inconsistency thou art a jewel."

The straw that blistered the camel's hump, it is agreed, was the 20 to 12 drubbing given to the New Concord Muskies by the Akron Zippers.

When every one except dyed in the wool Buchtelites added a bit of charity to their observations and opined the game would be interesting. On paper Akron seems to have more than an even chance to beat Oberlin, Baldwin-Wallace and Wooster for its record.

The visitors moved the sticks 16 times, Wellsville five. Mingo passed four times and one went for a touch-down. Wellsville completed four out of six passes, two being intercepted.

With the game five minutes old, R. Schaffer, Callahan and McQueen drove to the goal line, R. Schaffer plowing the line to score. A forward pass sent Callahan over the line again. Callahan plunged the line in the second period for the next marker.

The last two periods were much like the first. After Callahan's kick-off, the visitors marched down the field again to score and again they did the same thing.

The Orange revived in the last five minutes and fairly swept the visitors from their feet, reeling off four straight first downs to score.

TITLE FIELD STILL WIDE OPEN TODAY

Michigan, Big 10 Contests, Unbeaten Either in or Out of Conference; Ohio State and Northwestern Lose.

By Jimmy Corcoran.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—This business of selecting a collegiate candidate for national honors or, to descend a peg or two, the Big Ten championship goes merrily on here in the middle west after last Saturday's football games.

At the present eruption the field is rather wide open. We still have Michigan unbeaten. This would rate the Wolverines as a contestant for the U. S. begonias. Michigan hasn't been beaten either in or out of the conference. Chicago, unsullied in the Big Ten, has been trounced by Oklahoma, Minnesota, likewise undefeated in the conference, has been tied by Indiana, Illinois, with a clean slate in the Big Ten, has been tied by Iowa State.

There you have the football situation here in the middle west on your finger nails, as one might say.

Last Saturday's games proved only a couple of things. It convinced a lot of people that Michigan, despite the graduation of Benny Friedman, has another great ball team. It proved that Ohio State is the sloppiest powerful club on record. It proved, too, that this fellow Bob Zuppke, at Illinois, is another Houdini.

Northwestern, Dick Hanley's outfit, which had been unbeaten up to Saturday, realized the sting of a one-point defeat. Illinois perpetrated this, 7 to 6, in Evanston, which is hard by Chicago. The trimming relieved the Purple of any title hopes and boosted Illinois high up among the contenders.

From one point of viewing the game Northwestern was the victim of a lot of "hard coal." "Tiny" Lewis, prospective all western half back and a possibility of an all American missed the kick that would have tied Illinois.

He also was injured in one of the early plays of the second half and Hanley had to worry along without his strongest offensive weapon. However, a one-point win goes in to the record books and counts just as much as a margin of 60 points. At least that's the way it figures in the western conference.

Ohio State went up to Ann Arbor and in the shadows of the Wolverine took a 21 to 0 soaking. The Saturday before the Buckeyes had been dropped by Northwestern, 19 to 13, and it was the prediction of many that Ohio would find its legs and go a galloping. Michigan decided differently and the Ohio State team that wobbled off the field was a thoroughly beaten ball club. You should hear in mind that we said that the team has power—a million dollar's worth.

Minnesota, which was overdue in

Army Toppled By Powerful Yale Machine

Chicago, Lebanon,
W & J. Victories are Outstanding.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Adversity's heavy hand dealt some staggering blows on the football gridirons of the nation on Saturday with the Army and Harvard suffering decisive defeats at the hands of Yale and Dartmouth, respectively, and Cornell going down under a terrific attack by Princeton.

Other results were the defeat of Pennsylvania by Chicago in a game that in advance looked like a triumph for the Quakers; Lafayette's unexpected overthrow by Washington and Jefferson for its first defeat in two seasons; Brown's humiliating setback at the hands of Lebanon Valley; Colgate's surrender to Wabash, an unheralded and unsung conqueror from the middle west; Northwestern's heartbreaking reversal by Illinois by the margin of a single point; and perhaps more astounding than all others, Amherst's rout by the admittedly weak Wesleyan eleven in the first game of the "little three" series. These were upsets of a surprising sort and strictly in keeping with the unforeseen upheavals that have already made the 1927 season unique in the annals of the game.

More in keeping with the accustomed formalities were the victories of Penn State over Syracuse; Pittsburgh over Carnegie, though Pittsburgh did have its goal line sullied for the first time this season; Georgetown over West Virginia; New York university over Rutgers; Columbia over Williams; Michigan over Ohio State; Notre Dame over Indiana, and Stanford over the Oregon Aggies.

Not so much did Yale astound the 80,000 spectators in the bowl by its actual victory over the Army as it did by the means whereby it gained that victory. Not until late in the game did the Army get a chance to show its former line attack and then it was too late, for Yale had taken the whip hand early and driven up and down the gridiron with enough might and power to demonstrate decisively that it was the Army's master.

Much has been said of the prowess of Bruce Caldwell, one of the greatest Yale backs of all time, but few suspected that Yale had in its 1927 line one of the staunchest forward walls that has ever graced an Eli team. Here was a line on attack fitted the experienced and powerful Army clear off its feet and opened up wide gaps through which Caldwell could drive for endless yards, and which on defense was an ever tightening net around even such skillful backs as Harry Wilson, Murrell and Cagle.

Without Caldwell, Yale's attack would still have been a machine of power because of the strength of the line. Caldwell and the Yale line shared the honors, Caldwell with his terrific line smashing plunges, his superb punting and drop kicking skill, and his brilliant forward passing; the line by its alertness, its cohesion and its power.

In triumphing over Harvard, Dartmouth bids fair to equal its record of 1925 when it went undefeated through the season to a championship, although it must overthrow this wonderful Yale eleven to achieve that end. The Green smothered the Crimson with a team that crashed through the Harvard line and rode roughshod over its flanks in a remarkable demonstration of power.

Cornell yielded to a wide awake Princeton eleven which uncovered a new Tiger hero in Ed Wittmer. The Tigers were scored on for the first time this season but they more than doubled Cornell's count with an attack that surged through the Cornell line and swept over it with a bewildering assortment of forward passes.

Pittsburgh, too, continued to exhibit great strength by its one-sided victory over Carnegie Tech, Navy resumed its winning ways by beating the powerful Duke eleven while George Tech, which faces Notre Dame shortly, overthrew North Carolina with ease. Bucknell, an unbeaten, unscathed-on eleven, kept its slate clean by whitewashing Gettysburg.

Chester 11 Surprises Wellsburg

Wins, 12-6, But Brooke Countians File Protest.

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Chester high school scored a 12-6 victory over Wellsburg here Saturday in a game that was played under protest. Wellsburg protested the playing of Don Shaw, the visitors' quarterback, declaring that he was over the eight semester limit. According to word from Wellsburg, Wellsburg will submit their protest to the West Virginia State Athletic Association of which both teams are members.

Both scores made by the visitors came in the second quarter. Kimball scored the first touchdown when he intercepted Davis' lateral pass and ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

The second marker came after a march of fifty yards by the visitors. They used straight football all the way. Shaw carried the ball over on the last play from the five yard line.

The lone Wellsburg tally came late in the third quarter when Davis broke away for a run of 35 yards placing the ball on Chester's five yard mark. Davis plunged the ball over on the next play.

The game was fairly even throughout and gave the large crowd that turned out for the battle, plenty of thrills.

The challenge which was drawn in the form of a resolution was signed by Dr. Brown, Dr. Paul H. Strand, Youngstown; Dr. C. E. Schilling, Willard; Dr. B. Franklin Lear, Warren; Dr. Goo, D. Meeker, Cincinnati, all officers of the state chiropractic society.

It was addressed to Dr. L. L. Bigelow, Dr. H. M. Platter, Dr. J. H. H. Upham, Dr. J. B. Alcorn and Dr. S. J. Goodman, all of Columbus, officers of the Ohio State Medical Association.

MISCELLANEOUS RECIPES

COTTAGE POTATOES
Peel and cut potatoes into thin slices. Butter a shallow baking dish and arrange potatoes in layers cut side down. Sprinkle with salt, and pour two tablespoons of butter or substitute over them. Place in fairly hot oven and bake about 20 minutes for two layers of potatoes, longer if more potatoes are used.

MACARONI AND CHEESE
One cup of macaroni broken in small pieces; six cups boiling water, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons butter or substitute, two tablespoons flour, one cup milk, one-half cup grated cheese, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half cup bread crumbs.

Wash macaroni and cook in salted boiling water until tender. Melt butter add flour; cook until frothy; add cold milk, stirring constantly until thick; season. Put macaroni, sauce and cheese in layers in a buttered baking dish, cover with crumbs moistened with melted butter and bake in a moderate oven until crumbs are brown.

CORN AND TOMATOES

Cut grains off cobs of leftover corn. Fresh tomatoes. Cut tomatoes in small pieces, add corn, salt, pepper, small pieces of butter and about one teaspoon sugar (to taste). Stew together over small flame in covered pot. Add no water. If a little thin add cracker or bread crumbs. Fresh tomatoes that have become a little spotted and are not firm enough for salad can be purchased very reasonably and are fine for cooking.

CREAMY RICE
Boil half a cup of rice in a quart of milk until very soft—about an hour. Mix half a cup of sugar, a pinch of salt and two eggs together, add to hot milk and rice, stir and cook until thick; add a little nutmeg, grated orange peel or vanilla flavoring, and pour into pudding dish. Raisins may be added if desired.

ASPARAGUS RECIPE
One bunch fresh asparagus, two tablespoomfuls butter, two tablespoomfuls flour, two cupfuls milk, one-quarter cupful grated cheese, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper, one cupful soft bread crumbs, one-third cupful dried buttered crumbs, four hard-cooked eggs, one teaspoonful salt.

Boil or steam asparagus till tender, drain and cut in one-inch pieces. Make a sauce of the butter, flour, milk, seasonings, and soft crumbs. Put a layer of asparagus in the bottom of a baking dish, add sauce and hard-cooked eggs, chopped, repeating till the dish is filled. Sprinkle with the dried buttered crumbs mixed with the cheese, and bake at 500 degrees F. for 12 minutes.

SAVORY POTATOES.
Use cooked potatoes cut in thin slices or cubes; place a layer of potatoes in a buttered baking dish; add a layer of white sauce, two tablespooms of grated cheese and one tablespoom shredded pimentos; continue in layers until dish is filled, having a layer of fine buttered crumbs on top. Bake in a medium oven until brown top.

COCONUT CREAM COOKIES.
1 small egg, 1-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup thick cream, 1 cup shredded coconut, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt.
Beat egg until light, add sugar gradually, then add cream and coconut, and flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Chill thoroughly, toss on a floured board, pat and roll 1/2 inch thick. Sprinkle with coconut, roll 1/4 inch thick and shape with heart, club, spade and diamond cutters. Bake on a greased tin sheet in a moderate oven or at 350 degrees F.

CREAMED POTATOES
Place two tablespooms of butter in frying pan, add cold boiled potatoes, cut fine, season with salt, pepper, and fry till nicely browned, add three or four spoons of thick cream, heat well and serve at once.

MOCK CHICKEN CASSEROLE
Pork chops, rice, tomatoes, onion, celery, green pepper, salt and pepper, hot water. Select large, lean pork chops three-fourths inch thick. Brown in skillet and remove to casserole. On each chop place one tablespoom uncooked rice, one slice onion, half a tomato, fresh or canned, and ring of green pepper. For each chop used now add one-half teaspoon salt, dash of pepper and half a cup of water. Bake three hours in a moderate oven, adding a little more water if absorbed too quickly. When using canned tomatoes the liquor may be strained and used instead of water. The celery cooked with the pork gives the latter the flavor of chicken, and the rice as it thickens becomes deliciously flavored.

EGG PLANT FRITTERS.
Peel and cut in cubes, one egg plant. Boil in salted water until tender. Roll egg plant cubes in cracker or bread crumbs, then in well-beaten egg and again in crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat.

TOMATOES WITH STEAK.
Fry slowly, until about half cooked, one pound of sliced round steak, seasoning with salt and pepper. Take meat from frying pan and put in a roaster, adding one cupful of sliced fresh tomatoes or one cupful of canned tomatoes. Make a nice brown gravy and pour over the meat and tomatoes. Roast together until tender. Serves five persons.

BAKED CORN AND PEPPERS.
Put a layer of green corn, cut from the cob, in baking dish, then a layer of green or red pimentos. Sprinkle with salt and cracker crumbs, until dish is filled within an inch of the top. Sprinkle top with a little flour and pour over whole milk enough to cover and bake one-half hour.

CABBAGE SALAD.
Cut fine one-half of a medium-sized head of cabbage, peel and chop three or four apples and mix well with the cabbage. Sprinkle with salt, add a tablespoomful of sugar and pour over it all a good dressing.

CHICKEN, SWEET POTATOES.
Dress and cut up a young chicken as for frying. Season with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Place in casserole or roaster with four table-

CORNMEAL PANCAKES

Scald one cup of cornmeal with one cup boiling water, let cool. Two eggs, well beaten, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, one cup sweet or sour milk, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup white flour, one-half teaspoon baking soda in case sour milk is used. Mix well and bake on hot griddle.

Savory Cheese Sandwiches.

1 Cupful Ground American or Pi-mento Cheese.
1 Cupful Dried Beef.
1 Cupful Tomato Soup.
2 Tablespoonfuls Minced Green Pepper.

2 Teaspoonfuls Minced Onion Toast. Put together through a meat grinder all the ingredients except the soup. Add the soup, mix well, and spread between slices of buttered toast. Cut in finger lengths, and place on lettuce leaves to serve as a luncheon sandwich. This mixture may be placed between thin slices of bread and used for tea sandwiches.

CHEESE WAFERS.

2 Tablespoonfuls Fat.
4 Tablespoonfuls Flour.
1 Cupful Grated Dry Cheese.
2 Teaspoonful Salt.
Paprika.

Whites of 3 Eggs.
Rub the fat and the flour together and mix with the cheese and seasonings. Beat the eggs and fold into the other mixtures. Drop by the teaspoonful on a greased sheet 2 inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes, until crisp and brown.

CORN FRITTERS.

Beat one egg until very light. Add one cupful of milk, two tablespooms of corn, a pinch of salt and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix well and then add flour enough to make a batter the thickness of cake batter. Drop by teaspoonfuls into deep, hot fat and fry until a delicate light brown.

STRING BEAN SALAD.

Cold, cooked string beans, dressed with mayonnaise and fine chopped onion, make an excellent salad. Peas may be substituted for beans.

STUFFED CABBAGE.

Remove the center of a head of cabbage, and fry with one onion. Add bread crumbs, salt and pepper, two eggs, beaten, and one cupful chopped ham. Fill cabbage shell and bake.

STUFFED SWEET POTATOES.

Bake large sweet potatoes and when soft make a slit down one side, scoop out the inside and beat it with salt, pepper, a half-cupful of cream and a teaspoon of lemon juice. Fill

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Oatmeal in soup adds greatly to its nutritive qualities, and also the flavor. Use it instead of rice, or as an addition to any except creamed soups.

English Mince Meat

Cut across, once or twice, but do not chop, two pounds of stoned raisins, mix with three pounds of currants, thoroughly cleaned and dried; one pound and one-half of quite lean beef, exceedingly fine-minced; three pounds of fine suet from the kidney, also minced into very small pieces; two ounces, each, of candied lemon and orange peel, or four ounces of candied citron, sliced very thin, and then cut in small pieces crosswise. Mix all these ingredients, and sift over them, while mixing, the gratings from a medium-sized nutmeg. Add also the grated yellow rind of two lemons, and the strained juice of the same. Pare, core, and mince four pounds of fine-flavored apples, and add these, with three pounds of sugar and one-half a tablespoomful of salt, to the other ingredients. Pack into a stone jar, and (if you are in England), pour over all a pint and one-half of brandy. Cover the jar to exclude the air, and if you make the mince early in December it will be ready to use the following Christmas.

This is the English recipe, but we think, perhaps, if you make the mince in February you may find it all right to use the following Christmas.

You might try using grape juice, or the juice from canned fruit, and if stored in a cool place it may keep.

the shells and return to the oven to brown.

MACARONI AND TOMATOES.

Cook until tender, one box of macaroni. Add one small can of tomatoes. Cook until all juice is cooked down, season with salt, a little pepper and one tablespoomful butter. Before taking from stove, add one-half cupful sweet cream, let come to a boil, and serve. Fresh tomatoes may be used in place of canned, if preferred.

CREAMED VEGETABLES.

When vegetables are scarce try cooking tiny carrots, cut in small pieces, string beans, cut fine, and shelled peas in a little salted water. Let the water boil down, add a cupful of sweet cream and pepper and salt. This is fine and a decided change from either vegetable cooked alone.

Golden Star Dairy Products are selected by a recognized authority on account of their purity.

Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers, who is to conduct the Review-Tribune Cooking School at the Eagles' Auditorium, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week, and who is a nationally known food expert, has selected Golden Star Milk, Butter, and Cream to use exclusively throughout her demonstrations. What better tribute could be paid to any food products?

GOLDEN STAR MILK

Mrs. Brown-Lewers put Golden Star Milk to every test and finds that it is of the highest standard of purity that it is delicious to the taste; and of high nutritive value. She marveled at the orderliness of the Golden Star Dairy, and at the modern dairy machinery, and at the scientifically trained workmen. She earnestly recommends the use of Golden Star Pure Pasteurized Milk and Cream.

True Value Over Old Ice Box Is Recognized Early

City Sold on New Process Because it is Seen as Worthy Purchase.

East Liverpool women appreciate the sound values of electric refrigeration.

But that is not strange of citizens of a city of progress which has contributed so much toward the advancement of science and industry, art and learning.

The electric refrigerator was more or less new to the world, which looked upon it as a novelty. In it they saw a marvelous superiority over the old-fashioned ice-box. They realized how economically constant temperature might be kept for the preservation of food—a problem in itself. They did not miss its sanitary worth. East Liverpool was sold on the electric refrigerator because its citizens saw a worthy purchase.

And that is why sales of electric refrigerators have been so great and steady in the "Workshop of the World." These machines have sold well through their merit—for no other reason.

These buyers of electric refrigerators knew that, since early history, man had sought a means of preserving his food for the morrow—or the day when hunting was poor. They knew he had found a means of keeping precious and life-giving viands from decay with salt and ice. But ice often was scarce. No one cared to live on salt food constantly. It was inimical to good health.

So, down through the ages, man tried ineffectually to manufacture artificial cold. It was done on a large scale. The process required too much space and was too costly for ordinary household use. Then came the electric refrigerator. It combined qualities of sanitation, constant temperature and compactness.

That was enough. The electric refrigerator was brought to East Liverpool.

Cheaper in Long Run.

The critical people of this community watched the new device function. Husbands quickly saw with this machine they would be relieved forever of emptying ice waste which dripped into the pan under the old ice chest. Economical wives figured the cost and upkeep, and knew the new machine was cheaper in the end. There would be no purchase of ice daily. They would have a consistency in temperature that ice never could give. Year in and year out they would have a cool, sanitary place to keep food.

But, like good housewives, they saw more. The mechanical details were simple. Their floors never would be dirtied with the iceman's feet, nor the water dripping from the ice he brought in and stuffed or shoveled or jammed into the ice chest. The electric refrigerator was an asset in every way, they reasoned. In the warmest sun, weather, in the heat which resolved a cake of ice into nothing, they would have cool, constant temperature in which to keep edibles.

It was demonstrated to them with the machine how food might be kept at a temperature from 10 to 15 degrees colder than with the old-fashioned method.

Since those early days, not so far past, electric refrigerators have been installed in hundreds of homes here. Apartment house owners were quick to see the advantage of them, and sensing the future demand for refrigeration by their tenants, installed them. But they have gone beyond that. Schools and other institutions, where the problem of keeping great quantities of food from decay was ever-present, took to electric refrigeration.

Big Demand Here.

The exceedingly low cost of operation first struck the hard economical mind. The electrical refrigeration fits in with the American ideas of convenience.

Seven years ago the number of electric refrigerators built yearly amounted to only thousands. Now they run into the hundred thousands.

More homes in East Liverpool use electric refrigeration than even anticipated by salesmen. Next year thousands of these machines will be sold here. For the East Liverpool public wants a convenient refrigerator that will function always.

Good installation by trained men has done much to boost sales. The men who are instructed to the task of installing your refrigerator are all factory-trained. They never leave the job until everything is functioning as mechanically perfect as possible. To insure this they are continually subject to call wherever needed. The simplicity of operation has done much more for the refrigeration than good salesmen or advertising. The machine works so easily. It seldom stops functioning.

Three Combinations For School Lunches

Many a mother has started the yearly grind of putting up lunches for the school children. And many a school child is saying that they wouldn't mind going to school if they didn't have to eat cold lunches. We really think mother gets the worst of it, however, because she has to think up everlasting changes and surprises for the youngsters as well as the work of putting up the lunch. Here are three combinations that help:

Egg sandwich; brown bread and jelly sandwich; glass of applesauce; oatmeal cookies; peach; milk.

Chipped beef sandwich; peanut butter sandwich; baked apple; molasses cookies; pear; cocoa or milk.

Ham sandwich; cheese sandwich; pickle; custard; graham crackers; plums.

HOW TO MAKE APPLE SAUCE

Wash, peel, quarter and core the apples, or if you are going to put the sauce through a colander, leave the skins on. Cook the apples in a covered pan, using just enough water to keep them from scorching. If apples are cooked in a covered pan, the steam will cook them. Cook rapidly until the apples are soft, adding a little more water if necessary. If you have left the skins on, put the sauce through a colander, or a sieve, and then sweeten to taste. A dash of salt and a little butter improves the flavor. Adding the sugar after the apples are strained gives a fresher taste and saves sugar. Variety of flavor may be secured by adding spices, such as cinnamon or nutmeg, or cloves, thin slices of lemon, or a few drops of lemon juice. Nutmeg should be used only on apple sauce which is to be eaten at once. Apple sauce flavored with nutmeg is apt to become bitter if allowed to stand long. The best flavored apples make the best sauce. Tasteful apples should have other fruits added to give them flavor, such as prunes, pineapples, dates, figs, quinces or raisins.

MADE ROOM

A housewife writes: "When baking a pie recently I had my oven full except for a small space which would not hold my pie tin. So I hit upon the scheme of putting in a small pan, inverting same, and setting my pie on that. This saves time and fuel as I could do all my baking at once."

For Left Over Egg Yolks.

When only the whites of eggs are needed for cooking purposes, a good way to use the yolks is to drop them in boiling water, cooking them until hard for salads, meat loaf and sandwiches.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

LOTS of space to store food—that's what you want in an electric refrigerator. The smallest model of the General Electric Refrigerators (the one illustrated) has the unusually large shelf area of nine square feet. Special designing of the shelves and the freezing chamber has accomplished this. And, automatically, the current starts and stops just at the right moment to keep the temperature always within the zone of perfect refrigeration.

There isn't a single belt, fan, drain-pipe, or stuffing box in the General Electric Refrigerator. There's nothing to get out of order. There isn't an exposed moving part. All the mechanism, built with General Electric skill and tested in the General Electric laboratories, is hermetically sealed in a single steel casing. A permanent supply of special oil is enclosed. This absolutely eliminates the task of oiling—for all time.

You are cordially invited to come in and see the refrigerators. Ask as many questions as you wish. Look in, under and behind them. And meanwhile, if you wish, the coupon below will bring you an illustrated booklet which tells more about these remarkable refrigerators.

Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers selected the General Electric Refrigerator for use in the cooking school because of its PERFECT REFRIGERATION as well as its simplified, quiet and economical operation.

WHAT DO WE HAVE FOR DESSERT?

MAPLE CREAM

Dissolve one-half package gelatine in cold water. Pour over it one cup boiling maple syrup, being careful all the gelatin is dissolved. Add one cup scalded milk thoroughly beaten with two eggs. When it begins to stiffen add one pint whipped cream. Beat gently until all is well mixed, then turn into mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Set on ice four hours before serving.

CARAMEL BAVARIAN CREAM

Two cups milk, two tablespoons sugar, three-fourths cup sweet milk, butter size of an egg. Boil until it will beat when dropped in cold water. Beat until creamy.

CARAMEL FILLING

Two cups brown sugar, three-fourths cup sweet milk, butter size of an egg. Boil until it will beat when dropped in cold water. Beat until creamy.

PEACH COBBLER

Place cooked halved peaches in bottom of pudding dish and pour over them batter made as follows: one tea-spoon baking powder, one well beaten egg, one-half cup sugar, one cup flour, three tablespoons melted butter, one-half cup milk and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Mix ingredients in order given, bake until batter is golden brown. Serve with cream.

PINEAPPLE BREAD PUDDING

Add two cups of hot milk to two cups of stale bread crumbs and allow to stand until cool. Beat two eggs, add one-half cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt and three-fourths cup of well-beaten crushed pineapple. Combine the mixtures and pour into a greased baking dish. Bake in a slow oven until firm, or about thirty-five minutes. Serve with a sauce made from the syrup drained from the pine-apple.

HAWAIIAN PUDDING

1½ cups cooked rice, 1 cup grated pineapple, ½ cup powdered sugar and 1 cup whipping cream.

APPLE ROLL

Make a flaky or plain pastry. Roll out to one-half inch thickness. Cover with thin slices apples, sprinkle with sugar and a little nutmeg and dot with bits of butter, about 1 tablespoonful. Roll as for jelly roll, brush the edges with cold water and pinch together. Bake in a hot oven and serve with hard sauce.

DATE TAPIOCA

One-quarter cup minute tapioca, one cup sliced dates, two cups boiling water, two tablespoonsful butter, one-half cup brown sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one-half cup heavy cream, whipped.

Heat water to boiling in top part of the double boiler, place over the lower part, stir in the tapioca gradually, add the dates, butter, sugar and salt and cook until the tapioca is

FRUIT BLANC MANGE

Put one quart of milk into double boiler and heat to boiling point. Add four tablespoons cornstarch mixed smooth in a little cold milk with a pinch of salt and half a cup of sugar. Cook until thick, season to taste and pour over cooked or fresh fruit. Eat cold with sugar and cream.

HAWAIIAN PUDDING

One cup whipping cream, one-half cup marshmallows, one and one-half tablespoons granulated gelatin, one-half cup cold water, one cup grated pineapple, one tablespoon lemon juice and one-fourth cup sugar.

Beat cream and add the marshmallows, cut in small pieces. Soak gelatin in the cold water. Heat the pineapple; add sugar, lemon juice and soaked gelatin. Stir until mixture begins to thicken, then fold in the beaten cream and marshmallows. Line a mold with one-fourth inch slices of the jelly roll. Fill center with the pineapple filling and set aside to chill. When ready to serve turn out on a plate and garnish with remaining slices of the roll. To be served with or without sauce.

SOFT FRUIT PUFF

Four eggs, one-half cup powdered sugar, one cup cooked prunes. Whip egg whites to stiff froth, add sugar slowly, beating continuously. Add prunes which have been stoned and chopped. Whip until very light. Bake in pudding dish in moderate oven for ten minutes. Serve cold with soft custard made from the yolks of the eggs. Or serve hot made with other soft fruits with whipped cream.

LEMON PUDDING

Two cups water, one cup sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch dissolved in water, juice of one and one-half lemons. Cook in double boiler. Whip into whites of three eggs beaten stiff.

Saving Vitamins
Of Our Vegetables

Methods of cooking vegetables has been one of the problem studied in the University of Wisconsin. Here are some of the results obtained, all of which may be easily duplicated at home.

Baking vegetables saves most of the valuable vitamins and mineral materials. Boiling in little water brings about a loss of from thirty to forty per cent of minerals, which dissolve into the water. Boiling in an excess of water produces from forty to sixty per cent loss of the mineral substances. The longer and slower the process of cooking in water, the greater the loss of all food materials. The loss is greatest when the vegetable is cut in small pieces across the fiber. It is advisable for this reason to use the water in which the vegetables have been cooked in soups, gravies or sauces. Some tests developed the fact that soaking vegetables which were cut resulted in a forty per cent loss of mineral matter.

Steaming, or cooking in water vapor, conserves the food value with the exception of vitamin C. This is destroyed by heat in almost all methods of cooking. The cover of the steamer should not allow the water to condense on the food, as then the loss will be almost as great as in the boiling process.

Stewing, because all the liquids are used, does not waste the mineral materials and vitamins.

TO CLEAN PATENT LEATHER

The best way to clean patent leather is by dipping a cloth in sweet milk and rubbing the leather clean with it. It will also keep the leather from cracking.

Church suppers are generally resumed in the renewed activities of fall. It is hard not to go on repeating with the food served, so with this in mind the two following menus have been planned for about 40 people:

Beef and tomato loaf; escalloped potatoes; baked vegetables (squash, eggplant or cauliflower); mixed pickles; rolls; cake or cookies; coffee.

About eight pounds of meat will be required for 40 or 50 people, half a peck of potatoes and seven or eight pies.

TO KEEP STOVES AND PIPES
FROM RUSTING.

A thorough application of linseed oil before putting away for the summer will prevent stoves and pipes from rusting. In the fall polish them, leaving the oil on.

THE QUALITY GOES IN BEFORE THE NAME GOES ON

Why does not Zenith build a radio receiver to sell for less than $100.00?

The answer is that the Zenith standard of quality cannot be built into a receiver of lower price. Zenith will not put its name to a receiver that is not highly selective, powerful and faithful to the entire tone scale.

Performance comes first in Zenith — there is no compromise. The 6-tube set has six working tubes instead of five working tubes and one balancing tube. Instead of three condensers the 6-tube set has four—the 8 and 10-tube sets have five and six condensers respectively.

Time and again, Zenith has published this unwavering challenge to the world of radio:

The challenge stands today as it has stood from the beginning—so long as Zenith makes radio it will be the best radio.

"Under identical circumstances and conditions, and taking our various models in their proper grade, we challenge any make of radio receiver to equal or surpass Zenith performance in quality or quantity of tone; selectivity; sensitivity; distance; ease of operation; precision of manufacture and general all around appearance."

Zenith is the only radio set that McMillan would take to the Arctic.

Zenith is the holder of the world's long distance record—Japan to New Jersey.

Zenith has been first in most of the important developments in radio—25 original mechanical and electric achievements that have revolutionized radio.

That is why Zenith is the most logical choice in radio.

Variety of Meat Recipes

YORKSHIRE PUDDING

One cup milk,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, 1 cup sifted flour and 2 eggs. Add salt and flour to milk and beat with an egg beater until mixture is smooth; then add one egg unbeaten and beat about two minutes; add second egg and beat two minutes. Do not prepare until roast is about cooked. Remove meat from pan and place in a warming oven or cover to keep hot. Pour batter in pan and bake about 15 minutes in a hot oven, basting with the fat in the pan after the first five minutes of cooking.

Cut in squares and use as a garnish for roast. This will not interfere with making a gravy if desired, although a fine cut of roast beef should be cooked so that the juice of the meat provides all the gravy needed. Half this quantity will be sufficient to serve four persons.

LIVER WITH FRIED ONIONS

Two slices calf's liver, one pound onions (sliced) four tablespoons flour, six slices bread, two egg yolks, salt and pepper, two and one-half cups milk. Cut the liver into six pieces, cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain and remove the skin and veins. Sprinkle with the salt and pepper and broil or saute five minutes. At the same time fry the onions in a small amount of fat, adding more as needed. When light brown sprinkle with the flour, blend well and add two cups of the milk and stir until the mixture thickens. Season with salt and pepper and serve around the liver on French toast, prepared by dipping the bread in the egg yolks mixed with the remaining one-half cup of milk and frying until light brown.

CROQUETTES

Simmer a small piece of veal in water to well cover, adding a chopped stalk of celery and a slice of onion. When very tender, cool in the water in which it has cooked, cut in small pieces and pass through the meat grinder.

Blend with the contents of a small can of boned chicken, very finely chopped, and add seasoning to taste of poultry seasoning, salt and paprika. Moisten with a thick cream sauce, stir in the beaten yolk of one egg and chill on the ice.

Form with floured hands into small croquettes, egg and bread crumbs and fry in deep hot fat to a rich brown.

If preferred, plain veal croquettes may be made and are most delicious, although the chicken is a slight improvement.

PORK CHOPS, SWEET POTATOES

Pare sweet potatoes and place them in the bottom of a roasting pan. Wipe the pork chops and place them on top of the potatoes. Place the roasting pan on the top shelf of a hot oven in order to brown the chops. Brown on one side; turn the chops with a fork and brown on the other side. Then remove the roasting pan from the oven, sprinkle the chops with salt, pepper and powdered sage, add a little boiling water. Return to the oven, cover and bake one hour or until the potatoes are done.

STUFFED MEAT LOAF

Use one and one-half pounds Hambur steak, mix in two eggs, one teaspoon salt, pepper and grate in half an onion, add three tablespoons bread crumbs and two tablespoons melted fat. Mix thoroughly. Place a layer of this mixture in loaf pan and press in about three hard boiled eggs, then cover with remainder of meat. Bake and serve with the mushroom and green pepper sauce.

BACK OF LAMB.

Select the loin chops, allowing one chop for each service. Dredge lightly with flour and place in a hot oven (500 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes, then reduce heat to fairly hot or (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes longer. Serve with mint sauce.

STUFFED CHOPS.

Have chops cut about one inch thick. For six chops, prepare the following dressing: To 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs add 1/2 tablespoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon (or more) grated onion, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons melted butter and 1 beaten egg. Mix well and heap on top of chops. Place chops in a baking pan and cook in a fairly hot oven (425 F.) about 20 minutes.

BAKED CORNED BEER HASH.

Cook sufficient corned beef to make one and one-half cups (not too fine) and add an equal quantity of chopped cooked potatoes, half a minced onion, one chopped cooked beet and two tablespoons of finely shredded celery leaves.

Season with paprika, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and a pinch of curry powder and moisten with melted butter.

Turn into a greased tin and set on the top shelf of a very hot oven to crisp over.

Serve from the baking dish.

POT ROAST.

Wipe meat and brown all over in beef or bacon fat. Take out and brown onion lightly in the same fat. Put meat back in pan, add onion, two or three bay leaves, stick a few cloves in the meat, add a little hot water, pepper and salt, and cook very slowly two or three hours according to the size of the meat. When the meat is done put it on a hot platter, add two tablespoons flour to the liquid in the pan, mix smooth, add more hot water, cook until thick, seasoning to taste, strain and serve with the meat and vegetables.

HAM FILETS.

Cut a thick slice of ham into strips about one inch wide, trim neatly and let stand in cold milk for an hour. Drain, dip in fine break crumbs, then in beaten egg, and again in crumbs. Panfry in drippings and serve on a hot platter garnished with corn fritters.

SOUPS

CREAM OF CARROT SOUP

Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan. Add a tablespoon of flour and one-fourth spoon of salt and stir until smooth. Add a pint of milk and stir until the boiling point is reached. Add a cup of diced carrots, reheat and serve.

CHILI CON CARNE

One pound macaroni, two pounds hamburg, two cans kidney beans, one can tomatoes, one onion. Cook macaroni till tender, drain, chop onion and simmer with the meat for one-half hour, add tomatoes and beans, add all to macaroni, salt, and simmer one-half hour.

CREAM OF CELERY SOUP

Cook the tough stalks and the leaves of a bundle of celery in a small amount of water until tender. Put through a wire strainer or potato ricer. Melt two tablespoons of butter, add one tablespoon flour, mix smooth, add gradually a pint or more of milk, and stir until smooth and boiling. Add the celery water with the strained celery, season with salt and pepper to taste and serve with cheese straws.

TOMATO SOUP

One can of tomatoes or its equivalent in fresh ripe tomatoes, one quart milk, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon salt, little pepper, one saltspoon soda, one heaping teaspoon cornstarch or flour. Cook and strain tomatoes, add soda. Boil milk in double boiler, thicken with butter and cornstarch, boil 10 minutes, season, add tomatoes, let come to a boil and serve.

THE GREAT AMERICAN PIE*SQUASH PIE

One and one-half cups strained squash, one-half cup sugar, one cup boiling milk poured over the squash before the sugar is added, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, one egg, slightly beaten. Pour into unbaked crust and put into hot oven. Moderate the heat after the first 10 or 15 minutes and bake for 40 or 45 minutes, or until set.

PRUNE CREAM PIE

One half can pumpkin or its equivalent, approximately one and one-half cups, one-half cup sugar, two eggs, one tablespoon cornstarch, allspice, cloves and cinnamon, one-half cup milk.

ANOTHER PUMPKIN PIE

Two cups milk, two cups stewed and strained pumpkin (canned pumpkin may be used), one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ginger, sugar to taste, four eggs. Mix pumpkin, spice, sugar with milk, then add beaten eggs. Line deep pie tins with plain paste, fill and bake thirty or forty minutes. Squash may be used in place of pumpkin.

FLAKY PASTRY

1½ cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, ½ cup butter and 1-3 (about) cup of cold water.

Proceed as for plain pastry, leaving out the butter, which should be washed in cold water until smooth and elastic, then dried. Roll out dough, place butter in the center, fold over dough as directed above, and roll out. Repeat this twice. Dough is then ready for use. If butter breaks through the dough, set aside until cool, when it can be easily handled. This pastry is for pastry shells, tarts, etc.

CHOCOLATE PIE

One cup milk, one half cup sugar, one heaping tablespoon corn-starch, yolks of two eggs, one square bitter chocolate. Serve with whipped cream or meringue on top.

DEEP PLUM PIE

Fill a baking dish with washed plums, with a small cup or egg cup face down in the middle to catch the juice. Sugar to taste. Cover with a good pie crust cut quite thick. Cut vents for the steam and bake.

PLAIN PASTRY

1½ cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening and ½ (about) cup cold water.

Sift flour and salt together. Chop shortening into the flour; add liquid gradually, using knife. This dough should become stiff enough not to stick to the sides of the mixing bowl. Place dough on molding board and roll to ¼-inch thickness. Then fold one-third of this sheet of pastry over the center, fold the remaining third over the first fold, then fold across the center, then fold across again. Roll to ½-inch thickness again. This pastry can be used at once, but is

MAGAZINE BASKET

An ingenious woman describes how she salvaged a worn-out market basket and made it into a useful and ornamental article. "Had a high, narrow market basket, the ends of which were broken, so I cut them off. This left the sides and handle intact. This chased a yard of rose colored oilcloth. Cut off a strip and wrap it around the handle. Then covered the inside and outside with oilcloth. By leaving the ends open this made a nice magazine basket for the porch. One could stencil a design on the outside if desired. The oilcloth is waterproof and keeps papers and magazines dry."

DYE STAINS

Sometimes the most reliable dyes run on other articles in the washtub. If the stained garments are put into cold water and brought to a boil it will often take away these marks. Repeat if necessary, but do not use soap.

NEW CLOTHES BASKET

A wooden bushel basket lined with white oilcloth makes a convenient carrier for clothes. It is inexpensive and can be used many times to better advantage than a large one.

TO REMOVE SCORCH STAIN

Dampen spot well with hydrogen peroxide. Place thin cloth over it, passing a warm iron over surface and stain will disappear.

Let the gravy cool until the grease forms in a cake on the top, it will then be easy to remove, and you can warm up the gravy. Or you may pass a cloth, wrung out of ice water, over the surface of the gravy, and this will take up all, or nearly all of the fat, if skillfully done. Or you may pass blotting paper over the top of the gravy, and let it absorb the greasy film. Or if you measure one tablespoonful of flour for every cup of gravy, blend this with a couple of spoonfuls from the top of the gravy, turn it into the pan and stir over the fire until the whole boils, the fat, though still present, will be invisible, and though the gravy will be slightly thickened it will not be so thick as to forget the name, gravy.

Six mint leaves,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup boiling water, 2 tablespoons vinegar,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon pepper and 1 tea-spoon sugar.

Wash mint leaves and chop as fine as possible. Add boiling water, sugar and salt. Cover and let stand about 20 minutes. Add vinegar and pepper. To be served with lamb or mutton.

APPLE BUTTER SAUCE

Cut in thin slices, like shavings, two medium-sized tart apples; add two cups of water, half cup of granulated sugar and one tablespoon butter.

Let come to a boil, then thicken with one tablespoon cornstarch. Keep boiling until apples become transparent. This takes about 20 minutes.

This sauce is delicious served with cottage pudding, deep apple pie or apple dumplings.

COOKED APPLE DRESSING

One teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, dash cayenne, 1 teaspoon sugar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup tablespoon flour, 2 egg yolks, $\frac{1}{2}$  cup evaporated milk diluted with  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup water,  $\frac{1}{2}$  tablespoon butter,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup vinegar.

Mix dry ingredients in the top of a double boiler. Gradually add the egg yolks, fat and milk, stirring constantly to keep smooth. Cool over hot water for 10 minutes. Remove from fire, cool and add the vinegar.

PUDDING SAUCE

One-half cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, pinch of salt, 1 cup of boiling water, 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tea-spoon vanilla.

Mix sugar, salt and flour, add boiling water gradually; place over fire, and boil until thick or until flour is well cooked. Remove from stove; add butter and vanilla. This sauce can be kept warm over hot water.

LEMON PARSLEY SAUCE

Two cups milk (diluted evaporated milk may be used) 3 tablespoons butter or oil, 4 tablespoons flour, salt, pepper. 2 tablespoons finely minced parsley,  $\frac{1}{2}$  medium sized lemon juice only. 1 tablespoon butter.

Scald milk. Heat oil, and flour and seasoning. Add to hot milk and beat until smooth. When thick add the lemon juice. Just before serving add the butter, bit by bit, in order not to make the sauce only. Stir in the minced parsley and serve. (If sauce is to be kept any time before serving, place it over hot water, but do not add the butter or parsley until just before serving time.)

CREAMY SALAD DRESSING

One cup boiled or mayonnaise dressing,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup evaporated milk, 1-3 cup whipping cream, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon juice from peaches.

Combine evaporated milk and cream, chill and whip. Add sugar and fruit juice and fold into the salad dressing. Sufficient for six salads.

MAYONNAISE DRESSING

1 cup oil, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 raw egg yolk,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of mustard and dash of pepper or paprika.

It is essential that everything for a mayonnaise be of the same temperature; not one ingredient very cold and the other very warm. Put the egg yolk in a small bowl and heat until creamy, then add the mustard, salt, pepper and mix until smooth, add 1 teaspoon of vinegar, then add a few drops of oil, using a small egg beater; add oil gradually, beating until thick between each addition of oil. This can be accomplished very quickly with the egg beater.

Add remaining vinegar when all the oil has been used. By adding a small quantity of acid to the egg before using any oil prevents a possibility of the dressing separating. If the dressing is not to be used at once add 1 tablespoonful of hot water and mix well. This is also a preventive of separation. This is a base for many appetizing combinations.

To Whip Cream in a Small Bowl.

To prevent the spatter when whipping cream if no large bowl is at hand, try placing the bowl inside a large paper bag. It may be necessary to tear down the bag a little at the top to admit the beater. Another way is to invert a paper bag over the bowl, making a hole in the bottom of the bag so that the handle and eggs of the beater may be slipped through.

DO IT NOW.

Immerse the ink-stained handkerchiefs or blouses in milk immediately after the accident and the ink will almost always soak right out.

WEST POINT PUNCH.

Use the juice of 12 lemons, grated rind of six, one large can of grated pineapple, one quart of tea, two cupsfuls of sugar — more if desired, water to make one gallon, four bottles ginger ale. Add sliced bananas as a garnish.

A NEW RECIPE TO BAKE APPLES

Some apples—those that yield a very deep red jelly—will turn red during prolonged cooking, and will become translucent. The Spy and the Jonathan will redder during cooking, if the cooking is greatly prolonged. Bean-pots, filled with apples and cooked for hours, like beans, then becoming a beautiful red. But they will not keep their shape during this long cooking. The apples cut in quarters, retained their shape. Try cooking them in a syrup made of equal parts of sugar and water, and reddened with any of the vegetable colorings of commerce. The sections of apples, if of firm flesh, should keep their shape when cooked in a sugar syrup, and such cooking may be prolonged until the fruit is translucent.

SAFETY FIRST

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? You are poisoned. The bowels are clogged and liver inactive. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years to Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients and olive oil. They act easily upon the bowels, free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Be beautiful. Have rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy that make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

The Palacio Salvo, highest concrete structure in the world, is nearing completion in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Are you trying to hide behind a mask of cosmetics?

It can't be done! If your skin is red or pimply, there is only one way to overcome the annoyance—get rid of the defects. You can do this easily by using Resinol Ointment daily until your skin is clear and smooth again. Apply lightly. Leave on skin about an hour (longer if possible), wash off with Resinol Soap. Pleasant results follow.

This ointment is also a soothing healing dressing for minor burns, sores, rashes, etc. Keep a jar handy. Your druggist sells.

BREAD AND ROLLS*BRAN MUFFINS

Two tablespoons shortening, one-fourth cup of sugar, one egg, one cup sour milk, one cup bran, one cup flour, one-half teaspoon soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder.

Cream shortening and sugar, add egg. Mix and sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt. To the creamed mixture, add bran, then milk, alternately with sifted dry ingredients.

Pour into buttered muffin pans and bake in moderate oven twenty minutes. The result is twelve large muffins. If sweet milk is used omit soda and use three teaspoons of baking powder. Raisins or dates may be added to muffins if you wish.

GRAHAM MUFFINS

One cup bread flour, one cup graham flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, one-third cup evaporated milk diluted with two-thirds cup water, one egg, two tablespoons melted fat.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Beat egg thoroughly and add to it the diluted milk and melted fat. Combine wet and dry ingredients as quickly as possible. As soon as every trace of the flour has disappeared, pour into oiled muffin tins. Bake in an oven heated to 425 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes. This makes 12 medium sized muffins.

PLAIN BROWN BREAD

Seven-eighths cup flour, two cups graham flour, two-thirds cup brown sugar, two-thirds teaspoon salt, one and two-thirds teaspoon baking soda, one and a half teaspoon cream of tartar, two cups sour milk. Mix all dry ingredients thoroughly. Turn sour milk into mixing bowl. Add dry ingredients, mix well. Turn at once into an oiled bread pan and bake from 50 to 60 minutes.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

Two cups flour, one teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, four tablespoons shortening and three-fourths cup milk or equal parts milk and water. Mix and sift dry ingredients; work in shortening with knife or finger tips. Gradually add the liquid, mixing it with a knife to soft dough. Toss on a floured board, pat or roll lightly to one-third inch in thickness, cut with biscuit cutter, place in pan, brush over the top with either melted shortening or milk. Bake in a hot oven 12 to 15 minutes.

SPOON CORN BREAD

Mix two cupfuls of water with one cupful of white corn meal and bring slowly to the boiling point and cook for five minutes. Add two eggs well beaten and one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, and one teaspoonful of salt. Beat thoroughly and bake in a well greased pan for 25 minutes in a hot oven. Serve from the same dish with a spoon. This serves six people.

JELLY ROLL

Separate four eggs. Beat the whites until stiff and the yolks until creamy. Gradually add one cup sugar to the beaten yolks, still using egg beater. Add three tablespoons cold water and one teaspoon vanilla. Measure one cup sifted flour, sieve again with one heaping teaspoon baking powder. Add flour gradually, mixing well, then add one tablespoon melted (not hot) butter.

Carefully fold in the beaten egg whites, turn into a shallow rectangular pan lined with greased paper. Bake about 10 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Turn out at once on a cloth which has been sprinkled with powdered sugar. Spread with orange marmalade and roll up and set aside until filling is made.

WHOLE WHEAT OR GRAHAM BREAD

For two loaves: Two cups liquid (milk or water or the two mixed), two teaspoons salt, two tablespoons sugar or four tablespoons molasses, two tablespoons fat, one compressed yeast cake, about six cups flour, three of white and three whole wheat or graham. Put the salt, sugar (or molasses) and fat in the mixing bowl. Scald the liquid and pour over the ingredients in the mixing bowl. Let stand until lukewarm. Put the yeast in two tablespoons of lukewarm water to soften. Add this to the mixture in the bowl and stir thoroughly. Add enough flour to make dough which will separate from sides of bowl.

Place on floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl, cover and let stand in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Turn out on board and knead and shape into loaves. Let rise again in greased bread pans, covered. Bake in a moderately hot oven about an hour, lessening heat of oven at the last. Remove bread from pan and cool, uncovered, on bread rack. You may let it rise first in a sponge, using the white flour.

LIABLE TO CRACK.

Dry enamel and graniteware with a towel. Drying with heat will crack them, as the heat causes expansion.

SMON RECIPES*JELLIED SMON

Drain smon from a one-pound can and flake in rather large pieces. Have ready one cup of stock bouillon or consomme in which one-half tablespoon of gelatin has been dissolved and which is about to jelly. Arrange smon in a wet mold, interspersing it with sliced olives and thinly sliced lemon. Pour the aspic over it and set aside to harden. Turn out on a cold platter and arrange the slices of cucumber about it, masking them with a thick mayonnaise. The gelatin could be dissolved in water instead of stock, and pimentos and hard boiled eggs sliced could be used with the smon for variety. Peas are also a good addition to the jellied fish. Other variations will suggest themselves to the housekeeper.

SALMON CROQUETTES

One can smon, one egg, slightly beaten, one scant cup milk, two cups cornflakes. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Cook in hot fat until a golden brown.

SALMON

Put into the pan two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon flour, a finely minced onion, a sweet green pepper, minced and seeded, and a cup of tomatoes. Let it cook two or three minutes, then add a half cup boiling water and a half a pint (one cup) of canned smon; salt to taste. Serve over crackers or toast as soon as the fish is thoroughly heated.

USE THE LID.

If you are carrying a cake to a picnic or a church supper, use the lid of the box for the cake and the box itself for the lid, and you will have no difficulty in removing the cake from the box.

FRESH BREAD

Never put fresh bread in the box containing stale bread. It will take away its nice fresh taste in a short time. Keep the bread-box cleaned out and there will be no difficulties of this sort.

CHEESE TIDBITS

Roll left-over pie crust in a thin sheet, sprinkle thickly with grated cheese, fold and roll. Cut into narrow straws and bake. This is a delicious way of using the bit of pie-crust that is left.

When paint brushes have become hardened and stiff through disuse, put some vinegar in an old can, put the brushes in and boil for about ten minutes. The brushes will come out soft and pliable.
